SESSION OF LEGISLATURE OPENS AT HARRISBURG

SYLING TELLS DIRECTORS OF COUNTY PROGRESS

County Directors Hear Of Progress In School Work

New Construction Feature Of Report To Directors' Convention By Supt. Syling

HELLE IN FAVOR OF CONSOLIDATIONS

Lawrence County Has School Population Of 8,821, According To Report

Three new school buildings, erected at a total cost of $245,000, was the outstanding feature of the annual report of County Superintendent of Schools, John C. Syling, at the opening session of the twenty-fourth annual convention of school directors, at the court house this morning.

Two of these buildings, those at Ewing Park and East Brook, have already been completed; the third is now ready for the plasterers and will be completed within the next few months. The Ewing Park building, consisting of 8 rooms, cost $45,000; the East Brook building, 8 rooms, gymnasium and auditorium, cost, $65,000 and the Shenango township building, 21 rooms and auditorium, is estimated to cost, $135,000.

One new high school was established in Shenango township. It is being conducted in the mission church in East New Castle, until the new building is completed.

In his report Superintendent advised directors to be careful in the selection of teachers, to elect them early, and to see that school buildings were early prepared for school work. This year there was delay in some districts in getting buildings in proper shape. Supt. Syling also made some pertinent remarks on the selection of school books and apparatus. He stressed the advantages of the centralized school system.

Favors Centralized School

W. H. Helle of Taylor township, president of the directors association, made a strong address in favor of the centralized school system. He believes that much better work can be accomplished, than in the old single buildings, considering the advantages to be gained, the centralized system costs less than the old one room system.

President Helle was also of the opinion that too many pupils leave school after they have completed the sixth grade. With centralized schools, he believes that the tendency is to stay in school longer. He urged directors and parents, to

Police Say Webster Charges Mother-In-Law With Estranging Wife

(International News Service)
HEMPSTEAD, N. Y., Jan. 4. — Harold E. Webster, real estate salesman of Miami, Fla., confessed today that it was he who yesterday beat to death, Mrs. Catherine Gallaway, wealthy 45-year-old widow—his mother-in-law.

Webster killed his mother-in-law because she had threatened to cause her daughter, Mrs. Blanche Webster, to start divorce proceedings, he told the authorities.

Clubbed to Death

Mrs. Gallaway was found clubbed to death at the home of another son-in-law, Dr. Dell Clair Bassett, yesterday morning. In her hand she clutched a button and a piece of cloth, torn from a man's suit. This, and a strand of a man's hair, were the only clues upon which the police had to work.

Webster was arrested last midnight, and his confession, made after more than six hours of grilling, was made public this morning by District Attorney Edwards of Nassau County, Long Island. According to Edwards, Webster said he killed his mother-in-law with an automobile tire chain tool because

"Big Navy" Clan Defies Coolidge; Launches Battle

Campaign In Congress Is Under Way To Enlarge U. S. Navy

BELIEVE NAVY SHOULD BE EQUAL TO ENGLAND'S

Senate Naval Affairs Committee Reported Favoring Cruiser Building

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.— Defiantly disregarding the mandate of President Coolidge, the "big navy" clan in congress today launched forth anew on its campaign to make the American navy equal to to that of Great Britain.

With the administration's program of naval economy placed before congress in all its details, the House Naval Affairs committee met to consider new measures for enlargement of the nation's sea forces.

Authorization of the expenditure of more than $13,000,000 to modernize two battleships and the elevation of guns were scheduled to receive the endorsement of the committee.

In Senate Also

The "big navy" group also began swinging into action in the Senate. The Senate Naval Affairs committee was reported ready to back the demand of house members for appropriations to start building three more cruisers despite the admonition of Mr. Coolidge that this building program should be delayed.

Administration forces expected to be able to push through the $300,000,000 naval supply bill this week in the House despite apparent opposition.

Having committed themselves to a ten-cruiser authorization bill, members of the House Naval Affairs committee were understood to have tacitly agreed to delay their real fight on the floor of the House until the Butler cruiser bill is taken up.

Farewell Message To Legislature Is Given By Governor Pinchot

Largely Review Of His Four Year Term As Chief Executive Of State

FEW SUGGESTIONS MADE IN MESSAGE

Governor Would Abolish Office Of Secretary Of Internal Affairs

By G. ROSS DOWNING
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 4.—In the longest message ever delivered by an outgoing chief executive to a joint session of the Pennsylvania legislature, Gov. Gifford Pinchot today held up his activities of the past four years for review by the people of the state.

Much to the surprise of many political observers, the retiring governor dwelt but briefly with legislative recommendations for his successor, Jorn S. Fisher, and the 1927 general assembly. The larger part of the 17,000-word address was devoted to the summing up of activities in the various departments of the state during the past four years in which course department appointees received high tribute.

Some Suggestions.

Governor Pinchot expressed himself in favor of the appointment rather than the election of the two fiscal officers of the state, the state treasurer and auditor general. He urged abolition of the department

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.— With expenditures keeping within the estimates, and receipts running well ahead of anticipations, the treasury is rapidly piling up a surplus of funds that will justify a liberal tax reduction at the December congress.

Figures at the treasury today showed that the new year started with a surplus of $218,279,000, exceeding that on the same date last year by $100,000,000, as the result of tax collections in December amounting to approximately $430,000,000.

If the same averages are maintained in the next six months the government will close the year with a surplus of $506,000,000, one of the greatest in history. If March tax collections increase as have others in the past year the surplus will be even greater than a half billion dollars.

Can Spend $1,725,000,000.

The government can spend $1,725,000,000 in the next six months and still remain within the estimated $3,494,222,000 expenditure for the year.

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 4.—The federal government has again taken an interest in the murder of Don R. Mellett, former publisher of the Canton Daily News which, it is rumored may result in new sensational developments.

United States District Attorney A. E. Bernsteen was in secret conference here last night with E. L. Mills, counsel for Pat McDermott, already convicted of the crime and who will represent Ben Rudner when he is tried on a similar charge next month.

Summons Slater.

Mills was accompanied by Rudner's wife, his father and Jack Rubin a brother-in-law.

Following the conference Bernsteen summoned Ora Slater, Cincinnati sleuth who is credited with having solved many angles of the case and Henry Marter, prosecutor of Stark county.

Others at the conference were Police Inspector George J. Matowitz and Detective Inspector Cornelius Cody. The two officers departed hurriedly from a rear door when the meeting ended.

Mills, Rubin, Rudner and Mrs. Ben Rudner all remained here to attend another conference with the federal representative today.

Rudner's counsel refused to discuss the meeting except to say that it was in connection with the murder. Bernsteen was equally as reticent.

Moravia Street Fire Loss $1,250

Blaze Does Heavy Damage At Shifman Block Early Today

OCCUPANTS LOSE SOME FURNITURE

Fire of unknown origin and cause early this morning caused a loss of $1,250 in the brick building at 1125 Moravia street owned by E. Shifman. The principal part of the loss was sustained to the building although tenants in the building suffered a loss of approximately $500 on their furniture.

The alarm for the fire was turned in from box 53 at 2:45 a. m. and the firemen were on the job until 5 o'clock owing to the stubborn nature of the blaze.

It apparently started in the ceiling over the Shifman meat market on the first floor and under the floor of the apartment occupied by Jess McGinnis. It went up through the partitions, spreading into the apartment of H. K. Washington which is in an adjoining part of the building. It then spread all through the second floor.

The loss is partially covered by insurance.

These automobiles are a splendid thing, when the weather is warm and bright, and a fellow can drive for hours on end, all day and into the night. But when the snow drifts are piled about and the weather is zero, say, an automobile doesn't have the appeal, of the old fashioned one horse sleigh. Those old fashioned punts with a tricky horse, and some bells and a lady fair, for tires or brakes or a set of chains, a fellow had little care. It's a spert for kings and a king of sports, that old fashioned one horse sleigh, and I long for a ride when the snow is here, it's thirty-six today.

New School At East Brook Brings Reminiscences Of Early School Days To Oldest Resident Of District

If the 199 pupils who took their seats yesterday for the first time in the new East Brook school building could have stepped back into the East Brook school building of some 75 years ago they would have viewed a different scene, according to Myron McNickle of East Brook, who has the honor of being the "oldest resident" of that place.

Instead of the large brick building that greeted their eyes would have been a little unpainted wooden building down over the hill by the side of the brook; instead of polished floors that seem to reflect like a mirror would have been a floor of planks with large cracks and holes that made convenient waste paper baskets; instead of the shining seats and desks of the latest design they would have sat upon backless benches and tried to pen a good copy on a home-made desk furrowed by many pen-knife notches and grooves.

School 75 Years Ago.

For Mr. McNickle related how 75 years ago as a boy of six he started to school in a little frame building on the edge of the brook just a step up stream from where the road now crosses the brook by a cement bridge. His first teacher he recalls was Miss Elizabeth Cinewith, who afterward became the wife of Frank Criswell.

The second building in which Mr. McNickle attended school was in a room over his father's wagon shop. Then school was later held in a frame building which stood in front of the old brick building now used as a grange hall. Then just before the Civil war this brick structure was erected and served as a school for 35 or 40 years.

The first teacher to teach in this building was Thomas Fisher, who soon resigned his position, which was taken by Sam Christley. It was while in attendance at school to Mr. Christley that Mr. McNickle at the age of 17 went off to the army. Joseph Clark was the teacher when he returned from the war, but he did not continue long in school after the war for it was too much for a boy of 21 to settle down to such common places after the experiences he had been thru.

Mr. McNickle said that he had special cause to remember another teacher, a Mr. Ketler, who one day applied the rod because "Sonny" McNickle's toes lacked a quarter of an inch of the chalk mark as they lined up for their spelling lesson.

New Frame School.

Then after nearly 40 years the old brick school house was abandoned and the new frame building was built by R. A. Patterson. This

Philadelphia Man Father Of Seven, Seriously Wounded

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 4. — Anniable Polidoro, 46, father of seven children, was shot early today in his home here and is in a critical condition with a bullet close to his heart.

The shooting, police believe, is an echo of the recent slaying of Leo Brown, known as "King of the Greeks," who fell riddled with bullets in a saloon here.

Polidoro was shot by an intruder who gained access to his bedroom and held the pistol so close to his body that the bed clothing was ignited, police said.

A man known as "James Haney" was arrested following the shooting. Haney is charged with aggravated assault and battery pending a hearing.

Many Rumors In Connection With McPherson Case

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 4. — With the air charged with rumors and counter rumors the grand jury investigating the latest developments in the sensational McPherson case reconvened today to continue its sifting of "new" evidence.

Rumors from the camp of Aimee Semple McPherson and her co-defendants had it that the case might possibly be dismissed by the grand jury. There was no apparent basis for these rumors, however, beyond the hope expressed by Mrs. McPherson that such action would be taken.

From the office of District Attorney Asa Keyes came the report that the prosecutor would not reach a decision until he has fully and carefully weighed every phase of the case.

District Attorney Keyes was quoted as having said he expected to decide the case one way or the other by January 10, the time set for the filing of informations in superior court against Mrs. McPherson, her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, and Mrs. Wiseman.

Kenneth G. Ormiston, former radio attendant of Mrs. McPherson's Angelus Temple, was scheduled in court Thursday for arraignment on the grand jury indictment charging him with a single count of conspiracy to defeat justice in connection with the disappearance of Mrs. McPherson.

Three Slayers Await Time To Pay Penalty

Trio Of New England Slayers Will Likely Die Sometime Today

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Jan. 4.—The shadow of the electric chair today was drawn closer to the so-called Waltham carbarn slayers—John J. Devereaux, Edward J. Heinlein and John J. McLaughlin. The triple electrocution is likely to take place at midnight.

The men who are to pay the supreme penalty for the murder of James H. Ferneau, aged Waltham carbarn watchman, seemed reconciled to their fate. They have not been informed of the exact time they are to be electrocuted but have been told that there is no hope left, that death now is but a matter of hours.

A final appeal to Governor Fuller to commute the death sentence on the ground that Devereaux, the actual slayer, was insane, was made today by a committee of the clemency committee.

Tells Of Murder

Mineola, N. Y., Jan. 4.—"I pushed her back and struck her over the head with the iron bar which I had in my left hand. She screamed rather loud and came back at me again. I struck her about four or five times more and she fell to the floor."

Harold Webster, 30, university graduate and Florida real estate salesman thus told authorities in a written confession today how he beat out the life of his wealthy mother-in-law, Mrs. Catherine Gallaway because she said "that she would see that she separated my wife and I."

Webster was arraigned today before justice of the peace Walter R. Jones in Hempstead police court and was held without bail for action of the grand jury. Webster talked and laughed with detectives.

The police planned to take Webster to the Bassett home to search for the tire tool with which Mrs. Gallaway's head was crushed.

Webster's wife was in a state of collapse.

of internal affairs; suggested the need of a new executive mansion; attacked what he termed the "contemptible gangster" in politics; pleaded for clean elections; pointed to the sensational developments of the Pennsylvania May primary election, and told of the need for retaining the direct primary system of elections.

Concerning the appointment of the fiscal officers Pinchot said: "The governor is and ought to be responsible for the business management of the commonwealth. Therefore, like the president, he ought to have control corresponding to his responsibilities. Pennsylvania would be better off if all the fiscal officers were appointed, thus assuring harmony and making efficiency possible.

Would Abolish One Office.

"I repeat my recommendation, which I was not the first to make," the governor said, "that the constitutional office of secretary of internal affairs be abolished. This department performs no public service which cannot be better done elsewhere at less cost to the taxpayers."

The chief executive then took up the political aspects in the state.

"After four years in a position to learn the facts, I am going out of office with the most hearty contempt not only for the morals and intentions but also for the minds of the gang politicians of Pennsylvania," he said. "Doubtless in the past there have been gang politicians of power and insight. We look for them in vain today.

Election Frauds Uppermost.

"There is today no question more vividly before the people of the United States than election frauds. I can speak upon it from practical experience. The present administration would never have come into office except for an error of judgment on the part of the Philadelphia gang as to how many votes they had to steal to win.

"For many years the politics of the state has been run as a part of the business of certain moneyed interests. These interests invest in politics as they do in mills or mines or banks and for the same purpose—to make money. But instead of property they buy men and votes, favors and legisaltion."

The governor pointed out that the political machine is maintained by the moneyed men for their profit and declared that "hence any such machine must include a body of the lowest politicians, such for example as the Mellon machine in Pittsburgh and the Mitten machine in Philadelphia actually do control men who depend for their living and their power on liquor, crime and vice."

Cites Recommendations.

In concluding the topic of politics the governor called attention to the work and recommendations of his committee of 76, appointed to prepare legislation proposals for the prevention of election frauds. Pinchot presented the legislature with a second report from the executive committee of the commission recommending election law legislation. The first report of the commission failed to meet the approval of the special session of the legislature which met in January, 1926.

The Pinchot platform four years ago had 13 planks. The governor took up each provision of his platform today and told how those pledges had been kept and what has been the results accomplished.

One of his main pledges was to drive all of the saloons out of the state and to "prevent and punish bootlegging." To fulfill that pledge the governor sponsored the Snyder act, one of the most stringent laws of its kind existing in any state. He used every enforcement agency at his command to get results. He reviewed those results today.

Saloon Driven Out.

Pinchot asserted that "Pennsylvania was wet and wide open when I came into office." Now, he said, the licensed saloon has been driven from the state and breweries and distilleries which formerly operated with but little interference have been forced to close their doors for good.

Other planks to which the governor has given much of his time and effort dealt with the state government and its finances. The improvement in state government, and more especially in financial problems, the governor made it evident he considers as one of the greatest accomplishments of his administration.

The state four years ago, he said, was in debt 32 million dollars. He promised then to make the commonwealth live within its income and "to get a dollar's worth of service for every dollar spent." When the present administration closes, January 18, he asserted, that immense debt not only will have been paid off but the general fund will have an unincumbered balance of $6,700,000.

Budget System.

Inauguration of the budget system and the administrative code were two other accomplishments which the governor stressed. The budget made it possible, the governor pointed out, for the government to operate like a business concern, that is within its daily income. By the administrative code a complete business like corelation between the departments has been put into effect.

"These four years have been the best of my life," Pinchot said in concluding. "I have enjoyed them more than I can begin to say. There has been good fighting, and hard work. I have had the priceless support of loyal friends, and the almost equally welcome hostility of enemies whose opposition is a certificate of character and purpose.

"Sometimes I have won. Sometimes I have been beaten. But win or lose I have fought for what I believed to be right. I have fought for nothing that I was not willing to be beaten for, if necessary, and I have made no fight that I would not be willing to make again under the same circumstances."

One of the great tragedies is the callous indifference of automobile owners to the fate of ripe old cars that have served them well.

NEW SCHOOL AT EAST BROOK BRINGS SOME REMINISCENCES

building was occupied by both the high school and the grades from 1901 until the present time. The East Brook high school was first organized in 1901 with 28 students and James H. Gilfillan as teacher.

Of the four schools of Hickory township that are now centralized in the new building there seems to be no one now with us whose memory reaches back far enough to know which location is the oldest.

The Moffat school has been housed in three different buildings as far back as the memory of Mr. McNickle reaches. The first building was a frame structure located at the cross roads near the present location, the second is the stone house now occupied as a residence by the elder Mr. Boyles, the third being the present structure now being abandoned.

McDowell School.

The McDowell school has had three locations also, according to incidents related by Mrs. T. J. McKnight. Mrs. McKnight tells how her mother, Mary Jane McDowell, as a little girl in her first year of school remembered the burning of the school building then located in the hollow near the McDowell run. The next building was located on the hill east of the run near the present home of Audley Stunkard. The present building was built on the hill to the west about 1876.

The fourth building now being abandoned is known as the Brier Hill school, although Mr. McNickle said it was originally known as Bryan Hill from a family by that name living there. Hez McCreary, an old resident of this district, says he remembers two buildings, the present one being built about the same time as the last McDowell building. His first teacher was William Miller, he recalls.

School Century Ago.

All of these recollections go back some 75 years, but Mr. McNickle says that he supposes the school that antedates them all was one that his mother, Elanor Fisher, told him about attending when she was a little girl. This building was some place on the old state road nearly a mile east of East Brook, but Mr. McNickle says he was never able to locate just where it stood but that it was probably some place on the hill near or above the present East Brook U. P. church.

This must have been over a hundred years ago and likely was the oldest school house in that district. We can easily see the progress that has been made since little Elanor Fisher waded the snow drifts to that log school house, and now a large auto bus quickly conveys the great-great-grandchildren of her and her playmates to the fine modern building of the new East Brook high school.

So Soft— So White

By Edna Wallace Hopper.

Nearly every woman who sees them envies me my hands. They ask me how I keep them so soft, so white, so young.

They know that I travel all the time. My stage work encounters all sorts of grime and dirt. In most cities the water is hard. Yet the most sheltered women rarely have such hands. They never chap.

The reason lies in a hand lotion perfected for me by great experts. I apply it whenever I wash my hands. It is not greasy or sticky. It disappears at once. And it overcomes all that water does, all that soap does, all that grime does to the hands. Also all that weather does, all that the years do. My own hands form evidence supreme.

This hand lotion is now supplied by all toilet counters. It is called Edna Wallace Hopper's Youth Hand Lotion. The price is 60c.

I urge you to try it. I think I have tried nearly everything of this kind, but nothing compares with this. A guarantee comes with it. Your dealer will return your money if it does not please. Go get it and see what it means to you.

Ohio Man Will Enter Protest To Commission

Cincinnati Citizens Protest Appointment Of Cyrus Woods

(International News Service)

CINCINNATI, O., Jan. 4.—William C. Culkins, vice president of the local Chamber of Commerce, was enroute to Washington today to register a two fold protest with the Interstate Commerce Commission. His first endeavor in behalf of Cincinnati friends was to protest against the appointment of Cyrus E. Woods of Pennsylvania, to a position on the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Another purpose was to ascertain the reason for changing the Florida branch of the Dixie Highway from the proposed route through this city and adding it to the Chicago route.

Both Cincinnati and Chicago were desirous of getting the Augusta, Ga., to Florida "leg" of the route, but government maps just issued showed the "leg" had been tacked on the Chicago route to Florida instead of the Dixie Highway.

COUNTY DIRECTORS HEAR OF PROGRESS IN SCHOOL WORK

keep their children in school as long as possible. Children of today are brought into contact with livelier competition than in the old days. They require more and better education to meet the responsibilities of life.

President Helle also stressed the advantages of having good teachers. He urged directors to consult with the county superintendent regarding the qualifications of teachers. It does not take long to get the opinion of the superintendent, and may be of inestimable value to the pupils.

Secretary Reports

Mrs. Clara Andrews of Enon, secretary of the association, gave her report, which included the reading of the minutes of the last meeting which were approved.

Devotional exercises at the opening session were conducted by County Auditor Scott Kildoo, who is a school director in Slippery Rock township.

A business meeting and a report of the delegates to the state convention completed the program of the morning session.

There are 130 school directors in Lawrence county. Owing to the slippery roads and rain this morning, some of them were a little late in arriving, and some were unable to get here at all, but there was a good attendance at the opening session considering the weather.

Lawrence county has a school population of 8,821, according to County Superintendent Syling. Shenango township, with 825 pupils enrolled, is the largest district, while Washington township, with only 97, is the smallest in the county.

Mrs. Gula Hess of West Pittsburg, had charge of the music at the opening session.

This afternoon the Mt. Jackson orchestra is scheduled to furnish instrumental music. The program will include addresses by Dr. O. T. Corson, well known Ohio educator and Dr. Charles A. Dawson.

At the tomorrow's session the toy orchestra, composed of pupils from the first and second grades, Shenango-Taylor joint school will be a special feature. This orchestra has 18 members, who play on toy instruments.

At the business session held shortly before noon, W. H. Helle, was re-elected president. Other officers were re-elected as follows: P. W. Griffin, first vice president; C. W. Fenton, second vice president; Clara Andrews, secretary; Scott Kildoo, treasurer. County Superintendent John C. Syling and assistant C. F. Ball, are also members of the official staff, by reason of their offices.

SEE POSSIBLE TAX REDUCTION NEXT DECEMBER

tures were $1,813,000,000, about $19,000,000 less than the same period last year. Ordinary operating expenses dropped $92,000,000, the cut in interest payments having been $23,000,000. Payments into the debt retirement fund were $76,000,000 heavier the first half of the year, while refunds of income taxes amounting to $53,305,000 were $26,000,000 less.

Returns from income taxes were chiefly responsible for receipts of $2,025,000,000 for half year. The income tax collection amounted to $1,045,000,000, an increase of $189,000,000 over a year ago. At this rate the fiscal year income tax return will amount to about $2,220,000,000.

The government met a loss of $156,000,000 in miscellaneous internal revenue collections, which totalled $332,000,000 for the six months. Many of these tax items were repealed in the 1926 revenue act.

Customs collections moved steadily ahead with about $319,000,000 in six months, gaining $25,000,000 over the half-year before and indicating receipts of about $638,000,000 for the year, providing business prosperity is maintained.

Refusing to let the Democratic tax reduction fight die in this session, Rep. Hull (D) of Tennessee today sprang a proposal for a compromise tax reduction bill lopping $200,000,000 annually off the nation's tax bill.

"The figures as presented by Republican leaders show plainly that the treasury can stand this cut," said Hull. "It should be divided between corporations, who got a tax increase last year, and the repeal of nuisance taxes."

Bradford Officials Seek Solution For Murder Of Girl

Father Of Girl Treatens $50,000 Suit For Negligence

(International News Service)

BRADFORD, Pa., Jan. 4.—Threatened with a $50,000 suit for criminal negligence if they do not apprehend the murderer, Bradford authorities today sought to solve the mystery surrounding the death of Gwendolyn E. Jones, found shot to death here a week ago.

Major H. B. Jones, of Buffalo, father of the slain girl, told members of the city council he would sue the city for $50,000, if the mystery is not solved, because Carl Oberg, a Bradford officer, knew of the tragedy and failed to report it.

Accused by the mayor of "being after the money," Major Jones retorted that he would "give every penny to the Salvation Army and the Rescue Mission of the Wesleyan Methodist church, Bradford, if he won the suit."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—The right of the senate to take arbitrary exclusion action against a senator-elect was challenged today by counsel for Senator Gould, R., of Maine.

An investigation of Gould was ordered because of charges that he gave $100,000 to a former New Brunswick premier in consideration for a railroad contract.

Frederick W. Hinckley told the senate elections committee that the senate had no authority to expel Gould as no irregularities were charged against his primary or election campaigns.

SPECIAL SPEAKERS AT WOMAN'S CLUB

Members of the Woman's Club enjoyed two interesting speakers at their meeting in the Highland U. P. church, Monday afternoon. L. Lee Calahan, described the work done by the Rotary Club, for local crippled children. There were 52 cases when the work started in 1923, and in 1925 there were 1,210 cases. The Rotary Club spent $17,000 in this work and since the juvenile court has taken it over they have spent $8,000. Ninety-five per cent of the cases have been successful in this treatment.

R. L. Wallace was the second speaker of the afternoon, speaking of the "Proposed Legislation of Pennsylvania." Among the many things recommended to the new legislature are: Changes of the election laws; limitations of expenditures in election; elimination of all paid watchers; supervision of election by overseers from outside district; and opening the ballot box on request of a certain number of reputable citizens, upon their depositing a sum of money to show their good intentions. Considerable alarm concerning the emperor's condition is manifested in imperial circles. The empres dowager is keeping in constant touch with him at Akasaka palace where he is confined.

CHARGES DRY LAW VIOLATIONS MANY IN WASHINGTON

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Violation of the prohibition laws is rampant in the national capital, under the noses of government officials, Representative Cochran (D.) of Missouri declared today in introducing a light wines and beer bill in congress.

Cochran asserted he had figures from the police department showing that 19,209 persons were arrested in the capital during 1926 for violation of the dry laws instead of the 5,305 announced by the police.

TAX FOR NON-VOTERS?

WHAT should be a project that is of interest to large numbers of men and women in New Castle and Lawrence county is one that is now being given some attention in the country at large, that of imposing a tax upon non-voters. The apathy that has been shown in some elections has aroused more than ordinary interest in the project of voting, and it seems certain that an effort is to be made to remedy the condition by some method.

The Pittsburgh Sun says in this regard:

Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas announces that he will present an amendment to the federal tax bill by which every non-voter would be assessed an extra levy of one per cent on his gross income. A man of $3,000 annual income, then, would pay Uncle Sam $30 for the privilege of staying home from the polls. If his income were $30,000 he would pay $300. There would be not so many stay-at-homes at that rate.

The serious part of it is that Senator Capper means what he says. The even more serious part of it is that comparable fines have been long in operation or recently established in Belgium, Spain, Switzerland, Czecho Slovakia and Australia. Kansas City once put a levy of $2.50 on each non-voter and it took a decision of the Supreme Court of the state to break the law. In each of the last two sessions of the Pennsylvania legislature similar action has been urged, the important bill of 1925 having been introduced by Senator Cadwallader M. Barr.

What should be more disturbing to the non-voter, wherever compulsory voting has been tried, it has worked. In Belgium from 94 to 98 per cent of the possible vote is cast. Except in the more backward parts of Spain where penalties are ineffective, 90 per cent is recorded on election day. Compulsory voting in Australia has increased the poll from 52 per cent to more than 90 per cent. The success of the plan in Australia has led to serious suggestion of its adoption in Britain, where already the turnout on election day is approximately 80 per cent.

Americans don't like compulsions. Apparently they don't like to vote. But not impossibly we may be called upon to make a choice.

REVOLVERS TOO EASY TO GET

IT WOULD be as senseless to try to enforce the prohibition law while permitting everybody openly to sell liquor as it is to try to stop banditry while anybody may sell to anybody else the chief weapon of the criminals. District Attorney Fox, of Philadelphia, is on the right track. His legislative bill to control the sale of pistols strikes crime at the source.

Some will pretend that the defensive use of a revolver should not be curtailed. But the defensive use of an automatic is outweighed a thousand to one by its use in the hands of murderers. By simply disarming the native insurrectionists, General Wood put down civil war in the Philippines. Keeping arms from would-be trouble-makers is England's chief method of preventing uprisings in India.

Pennsylvania should not wait a day longer than is needed to frame the required law to disarm its bandits. Other states should fall into line. Mr. Fox's office as prosecutor of criminals will have less to do—and so will the criminal courts—if he can put teeth in the act which he has prepared and keep guns out of the hands of thugs.

Half the world may not know how the other half lives, but it has its suspicion.

There was a time when only the bold and naughty went in for chemical loveliness, but now even the good dye young.

If we had a 6-hour day folks would have more leisure time in which to advocate a still further reduction in working hours.

Every little girl goes through a spell of playing "house." The problem is to keep her that way after the wedding.

HOME

Home from the world again, out of all the sneering,
Home, where there's naught but love blended in the cheering.
Shut the door and draw the blinds! now the day is fading,
I can be myself awhile, done with sordid trading.

Home from the busy world, out of all the hating,
Out of all the bitterness, the long and anxious waiting,
Home to hear the kettle sing and hear the children chatter,
Home where there is none to scorn, none to fawn and flatter.

Home from the crowded streets, out of all the scheming,
Home where no selfish strife spoils our idle dreaming,
Men in every market place are merely money changers,
Shut the door and draw the blinds! Here there are no strangers.

I shall fare to fight again. Day shall bring its battle,
Thank the Lord for night and home and the children's prattle!
Here I drop my armor cold, and enter into gladness,
Home from the surging world and out of all its madness.

Some of the counties in the state where the good hunting is have started a movement to have a law passed prohibiting a hunter from taking out of any county, except his own, only one day's bag of game. The hunters from the big cities go out in season and clean up the rabbits, birds and bear, and the local boys don't get a shot at anything. Such a bill likely will find strong support in many counties.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 4:47. Sun rises tomorrow 7:24.

This country is still extremely prosperous when prize-fighters can get consideration when they ask for three-quarters of a million dollars for a fight—win or lose.

The government officials have decided that they will not poison alcohol to enforce the law. Some people are licking up the poison in spite of all warnings, and either the government officials or those who drink it will have to show some sense.

We remember that in some of our travels over the face of the earth we saw a sign on a pawn shop reading: "We Buy Anything That Doesn't Eat."

We could not feel kindly toward a self-confessed perjurer. We might feel sorry for a murderer who killed in the heat of passion, but the deliberate lying perjurer should be an outcast from society of all kinds—and he usually is.

A modern New Castle girl seldom screams because he kissed her. Old-fashioned girls always used to do that. But it didn't mean anything.

Habit is everything, and now America can keep right on reading and forget the radio is going.

The preachers in Los Angeles are criticizing the district attorney there for the dilatory tactics he is apparently using in the prosecution of the red-haired evangelist, Aimee, who claims she was kidnaped by some bad persons and carried into Mexico. Aimee gathers a crowd larger every Sunday in her tabernacle than can be seen in half a dozen Los Angeles churches and this is the reason, no doubt, that preachers want her properly prosecuted.

Beer drinkers in Germany have won a great victory. They put up against an effort to raise the price of beer and the government helped out and the price was not raised on the suds. When the beer supply of Germany is monkeyed with, a fight is on at once.

When a man brags what a good bridge player his wife is, it's dollars to doughnuts he had rather be able to brag about what a good cook she is.

In spite of all the safety first stuff, 108 people lost their lives by sudden and violent deaths in this county during the year just closed. That was 15 more than in 1925. Let us exercise a bit more caution during this year. One life saved is a wonderful thing, as it cannot be replaced.

The trouble with a "fast" young man is that he usually goes too far.

When we read about the earthquake in the Imperial Valley of California it took us back to a visit we made to that place once. We have covered the ground on which the quake was most severe. We remember well the two cities on the border, Mexicala and Calexico. It was Washington's birthday the day we were there, having driven out from Elcentro, the largest city in the valley. It seemed to us the Mexicans had brought all the liquor in that country to the line of the United States. All the stores were closed in both the Mexican and American cities and it seemed to us that it was just an effort to get as many drinkers from the U. S. as possible to step across the line. We did not think the shutting up of all places of business except saloons was in honor of Washington.

Real joy comes not from ease, not from riches, but from the applause of man, but from having done things that are worth while.

Find one who boasts that he is not a "party man" and you will find one who seldom votes and is often "agin the government."

We have often wondered why men have quit wearing the old-fashioned hard-boiled shirt, and we now find it is because some hand laundries charge 50 cents a copy for doing one up.

SENT FOUR TIES

West Pittsburgh, Pa.,
December 31, 1926.

Mr. Fred Rentz,
New Castle News,
New Castle, Pa.

Dear Fred:—I saw in yesterday's Hints and Dints where you did not receive any neckties this Christmas, and certainly do not want you to be disappointed. You will find enclosed a sample of our product with compliments of Woodhouse, Bopp & Company.

Yours very truly,
WOODHOUSE, BOPP & CO.
By H. Jand, Supt.

It was not our intention to panhandle ties, but we appreciate the gift highly. Four ties are not to be sneezed at.

All the joys of motoring have not come to you if you have not sat in a dead car along some country road at two or three o'clock in the morning, either trying to flag down some rushing autoist or waiting for the trouble man to come and tow you in. Most all autoists are afraid to stop when signalled on the road at night. We would hate to be lying alongside the road injured or dying if we had to depend upon flagging some timid driver. When there are many cars on the road one would think a signal for help would be heeded, but you just try it once and see how they bowl past you. The driver of a high-priced car is just as liable to have this happen to him as the driver of a flivver.

After a bimbo had been accused by his wife in court of being a habitual drunkard he came back at the judge with the statement that he only drank with his meals, and he also said that he ate three meals a day. Had he not mentioned the three meals a day we might have thought he was like the bird who only smoked once a day, and that was from the time he got up until he went to bed.

A French seeress, who predicted the World War and a lot of other big things that afterward came about, now says prohibition is going to get swatted during this year, and that the French are going to pay us what they owe. We do not think that any of these things will happen. This is one time the seeress is going to lose out in her phophecy.

We are in favor of a five-day week if everybody in the United States can enjoy it. The trouble with the short week is that most of those who are yelling for it work very little now for the high pay they get.

We have an idea that the day is not far at hand when people will have to buy a calendar instead of getting half a dozen given to them for nothing. It has been found that a calendar isn't much of an advertising medium, even if most of the space is taken up with an ad., and the calendar is so small it can hardly be seen. Most people want big "capital" figures on a calendar.

TOO SHORT A TIME

Magistrate (to Scot charged with assault)—"I've a good mind to send you to prison for six months."

Prisoner—"You canna dae that. I told ye, mon, I'm only doon to London for the week."

"For beating your wife, I will fine you $1.10," said the judge.

"I don't object to the dollar," said the prisoner, "but what is the ten cents for?"

"That," said the judge, "is the federal tax on amusements."—El. L. Keller.

There sometimes fails to be a distinction between free speech and cheap talk.

It is when the holiday bills come due that dad realizes regretfully that there is no Santa Claus.

It is fine weather for coasting, both of the voluntary and involuntary sort. The old folks have to be just about as careful as the children it isn't any more pleasant to have the print of the sidewalk in your back than to have a back full of radiator.

The British are reported to be ambitious to build an automobile that will go 200 miles an hour. We saw a driver yesterday who, despite the icy streets on the North Hill, tried to beat that record.

With a record of only four pieces of White House china broken in eight years, the question comes up, "Who made that china?" We'd like to get some of it.

The state of Florida boasts that it has but 845 persons on the state payroll. That is quite conclusive proof that that state is not up to snuff in the latest political methods.

The tough and hardy sex is the one that gets cold, despite wool trousers, from the overcoat down.

One or two more baseball scandals and the fans of the game will begin to think the games are fixed, and then look out. There won't be any salaries of $50,000 a year and more for players and commissioners. It is the fans who are paying the freight, but they will quit some of these days.

In Arizona a man we heard of is worth $10,000. That is the size of the reward the sheriff has offered for him, dead or alive.

A New York medium says she is in touch with George Washington. We'd like to have that medium get a message from George as to what he thinks of the birds who are writing books about him.

The theater is now reverting to dialogue free from profanity. The stage is an educator and the public has been thoroughly instructed on all the swear words extant, and now they will hear some other expressions.

New York City had more than 800 deaths from poison liquor last year; Chicago was second with 328. Perhaps after a time all the old-timers who drink this kind of poison will be gone.

The trouble with a great many women today is that they are exerting too much effort to grow old disgracefully.

A woman certainly is a wonderful creature. She can get everything another woman is saying while talking a blue streak herself.

Houses for 700 Years.
Investigating Science.
Shaw and the People.
If Mussolini Moves.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1927, by N. Y. American, Inc.

This is written in Arizona, with Flagstaff, flourishing center of energy, just outside the car window. To the north is a mountain of the rock from which cement is made. How many houses will be ground out of that stone mountain when the time comes?

At Arcadia near Los Angeles there stands such a rock, much smaller. On its slopes men have established grinding machines, turning out dust of which cement is made. Engineers have measured in that one block of California stone enough rock to last 700 years.

From this car in Arizona you see enough such rock to supply houses for all the sixteen hundred million people on earth. And there is enough good land to feed them, with water added to it. All that is needed in the United States is power to grind the stone, plow, pump water. Plenty of room and food here for a thousand million human beings and more, and enough mountain tops to give them all isolation if they want it, with their flying machines.

According to Vincent Barazzuri, Italian scientist, within ten years the heat of Mt. Etna will be harnessed and soon volcanoes will furnish all Europe with power.

This moment science and engineering skill are harnessing one of the world's three highest tides, in the Bay of Fundy, and British plan to harness another of the three, at the mouth of the Severn.

Reading newspapers rolling through the country the best headline is found in the Arizona Gazette, Phoenix: "1926 passed out; so did several local citizens."

North Carolina will look into the theory of evolution "as it relates to the origin of man," and perhaps outlaw such teaching in North Carolina state colleges and public schools. "Fundamentalists" have hired lawyers.

They should also look into the theory that the earth is round and travels with and around the sun. In other days other fundamentalists not only questioned that theory but burned men alive for supporting it. And Galilio, who made his little first telescope after reading about the Dutchman who "brought things nearer with double glasses," had to get down on his knees "to abjure, abhor and detest the truth that he had given to the world."

Henderson says Bernard Shaw is "a mixture of Puck and St. Francis of Assisi, of Peter Pan and Euripides"; quite accurate, if you leave out St. Francis and Euripides.

Shaw is shown playing with a fluffy white poodle, and that animal is as much like a black panther as Shaw is like Euripides. Ten lines that the old Greek put in the mouth of Medea, telling King Creon how men hate new knowledge, or describing a jealous woman's heart, are worth all that Shaw has written. But Shaw has been a useful man, an image breaker, and deserves honor and thanks.

All the talk about "Italy moving troops against the French frontier" ends in six "legions" of Fascist "Black Shirts" massed along the Franco-Italian border, 1,400 fighting men to a legion. So the great Italian "massing of troops on the French border" amounts to 8,400 men.

About one good meal for a half dozen French artillerymen.

If Mussolini ever moves across any border he won't send "Black Shirts" as targets for airmen.

He will send Italian fliers, none bolder in the world, and hundreds of them. And they won't stop at any border, but go straight to the biggest city. That is how the next war will start. If it happens to start against the United States, some statesmen not a hundred miles from the Washington monument will feel foolish.

More baseball scandals promised. If all the scandals could be uncovered many professionals and managers would be like "Swede" Risberg, formerly of the White Sox, "milking cows in a dairy."

The joke is on the foolish fans that pay to be swindled, wasting their time watching others exercise when they might be developing their own muscles, or in exceptional cases, improving their minds.

Bible Thought For Today

THE HOPE OF THE GODLESS:—The hope of the godless man shall perish: Whose confidence shall break in sunder, And whose trust is a spider's web. Job 8:13, 14.

PRAYER:—"My hope is built on nothing less Than Jesus blood and righteousness."

In Day's News

All of the gold is not dug out of the ground. At only thirty years of age, Arnold Ridley, a talented young English author has made enough money out of his first play in a period of a few months to keep him comfortably the rest of his life. The play is "The Ghost Train," and besides being played just now at five theaters in England, it is also to be seen in America, Germany, Scandinavia, Holland and Italy. The young playwright has crowded a wide variety of experiences into his thirty years. He was originally a school teacher, but after the war he abandoned the teaching profession and became an actor. Ill-health, however compelled him to give up active work on the stage, and he went back to the prosaic vocation of a clerkship in his father's boot store in the city of Bath. His love for the drama persisted, however, and he wrote the play which has been one of the biggest London stage successes of the past season.

Dr. Crane's Editorial

FEW LINES

Queen Elizabeth, historians tell us, had twenty watches, complex and fantastically jeweled, and not one of them kept correct time.

A laborer today carries a "dollar watch" that is the acme of simplicity in watch construction, but keeps perfect time.

Says Adam Smith, in his 'Essay on the Principles Which Lead and Direct Philosophical Inquiries":

"The machines that are first invented to perform any particular movement are always the most complex, and succeeding artists generally discover that with fewer wheels, with fewer principles of motion than had originally been employed, the same effects may be more easily produced."

The nearer perfection a thing gets, the simpler it is.

The keener the mind the more it strips away useless discussion. "It leaves out everything but the point."

Napoleon said in the council chamber he was pitted against more eloquent men than himself, but that he always won out by the simple argument "that two and two make four."

When we finish talking and our thought is not clear, it is not because the thought is to complex to express, but because we are not masters enough of it and of our words to make it simple.

"Language," someone who observed the common failing of not making thought simple, said, "was invented to obscure thought."

The highest art in writing and speaking is clarity couched in simplicity.

The Lord's Prayer, the Sermon on the Mount, and Lincoln's Gettysburg Address are among the greatest pieces of literature and each approaches the simplicity of perfection.

A noted cartoonist says, "Cartoons, when published, look as if the fellow drew them in a minute or two. Those simple looking drawings with but few lines are deceptive. There is more work back of them than if they contained a million pen strokes. The few the lines the harder the work.

Few lines, in every field of effort, is the slogan of approaching perfection.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

MORE CANALS

The question of ship canals in this country simply will not down. Makes no difference how often the railroads insist that water transportation is now unnecessary, the fact remains that water transportation can be made a great deal cheaper than railroad transportation, and that there is enough freight to be carried to keep both railroads and waterways busy, if the canals are constructed in proper places, of sufficient carrying capacity, and are operated in a common sense way. There is a great controversy going on now by way of a lawsuit, in which the St. Lawrence Valley is contesting with the city of Chicago, and incidentally the whole Mississippi Valley, that Chicago's diversion of the waters from the Great Lakes through its drainage canal is wrongfully done. The original purpose of the canal was of course to take care of the sewage of the city of Chicago, but incidentally the canal was planned so that it might eventually become a ship canal connecting the Great Lakes with the Gulf of Mexico.

A very exhaustive survey has been made by army engineers concerning the building of another canal, connecting the Lakes with the Atlantic Ocean, and they have recommended the St. Lawrence Canal, it being the cheapest, and in their minds the most efficient, and the greatest revenue producer.

Now along comes Herbert Hoover, who says that the waterways problems of the United States are not to be solved by the pouring of cement, rather than by verbal and legal controversies, by engineering, rather than by law. Going further, he said to the Mississippi Valley Association at St. Louis, "Navigation, power, reclamation, land protection, and flood control, are potential 'assets' of large drainage areas in the whole land. The proof of this truth is the result of the advance in engineering and transportation methods, and intensive agriculture, as well as the new economic pressures resulting from the World War, and growing population."

Going further in discussing the proposed development of the Mississippi, and the Great Lakes route, he said, "By deepening the channel from the Great Lakes to the sea about 25 feet, it would allow seven out of eight of all the vessels now plying the seas to enter the lake ports. This plan is not only feasible, but assured. Determination of the route will be made speedily."

Speaking about cheaper freight rates in connection with water traffic, he said: "Certainly the allegation that water borne bulk goods can be moved more cheaply than by rail needs no further demonstration than examination of rates. Broadly, if we have back loading, one thousand bushels of wheat can be transported one thousand miles on the Great Lakes, or on the sea, for twenty to thirty dollars. It can be done on a modern equipped Mississippi barge for from sixty to seventy dollars, and taking the country as a whole, it costs by rail from one hundred fifty dollars to two hundred dollars."

It can be seen that canal digging is not a dead subject in the United States, but why not also include the development of the Missouri River, the Arkansas River, and a few others of the great Western rivers? It is popular with the Western farmer to "bait" the railroads because of alleged extortionate freight rates. Might it not be well to help the Western farmer with a few canals?

I will say nothing about the Lake Erie Canal, eventually to pass through New Castle, for as sure as the sun rises and sets, that canal will some day be built.

Says Mind Functions Best When Body Is Slightly Fatigued

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 4.—Thomas A. Edison, inventive genius, sleeps a normal eight hours, or more, each night, not four, as popularly believed.

The mind is at its best and functions most efficiently when the body is slightly tired.

These were two revelations made here by R. H. M. Johnson of the Mellon Institute as a result of detailed experimentation on sleep.

Elaborating upon the results of his experiments, which today caused widespread comment, Dr. Johnson pointed out that there is no such thing as restless sleep. He said that experiments carried out with 18 University of Pittsburgh students as subjects, it was revealed that all of them showed indications of restlessness during a night of sleep.

It was also revealed that the mind functions best when there has been slight bodily fatigue, this being demonstrated by the fact that subjects did not show maximum mental efficiency after a long rest, but reached their mental peak after slight muscular fatigue.

Dr. Johnson exploded the Edison myth by saying that Harvey Firestone, intimate friend of the inventor, was among those to ridicule the story, and that it has long been a standing joke among Edison's associates.

FIVE ECLIPSES DURING YEAR

Two Lunar And Three Solar Eclipses Are Scheduled For 1927

WOOSTER, O., Jan. 4.—There will be five eclipses, two lunar and three solar for the year 1927, according to Dr. B. F. Yanney, professor of Mathematics and Astronomy at Wooster College. Only one, a lunar eclipse which occurs June 15, will be visible in the United States.

There will be a total eclipse of the sun June 29, which will be visible in England, Norway and Sweden. The other solar eclipse will be partial and noticeable only in the southern hemisphere.

Planets Visible

At the opening of the year planets visible to the naked eye are Mercury and Saturn west of the sun and Venus, Jupiter and Mars west of it. Many interesting marches and countermarches of these planets will be visible for those who care to look for them.

"Daily weather forecasts are correct about nine out of ten times" declared the Wooster professor. His statement was based on a check up made by the government weather bureau.

The seasons for 1927 begin as follows:

Spring—March 21 at 9:59 a. m.
Summer—June 22 at 5:22 a. m.
Fall—September 23 at 8:17 p. m.
Winter—December 22 at 3:18 p. m.

Arrest Man As Olson Suspect

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 4.—A man suspected of being Herman Olson, wanted for the murder of his sweetheart in Prarie Du Chien, Wisconsin, will be brought here by state police today for identification.

The suspect was arrested late last night near York, Pa., as the result of a tip given police by J. E. Harmon, an insurance salesman, who noted the resemblance between a picture of Olson and a man who came to his door and asked for food.

According to Harmon the stranger appeared at his home and asked for food, saying that he had not tasted anything for two days. He was taken into the house and then Harmon noticed the resemblance between the man and a picture of Olson in a newspaper which was on the floor. As soon as the stranger left the house police were notified by Harmon and the former was taken into custody.

Grove City Couple Killed At Crossing

Accident Occurs At McCoytown Crossing On Bessemer Railroad

GROVE CITY, Pa., Jan. 4.—Benton Blair, aged about 45, and his wife met death near here late Monday afternoon when the car driven by Blair crashed into a Bessemer Railroad school train at the McCoytown crossing on the Grove City-Harrisville road. Mrs. Blair was instantly killed and Blair died early this morning in the Grove City hospital.

Three daughters of the couple, riding in the rear seat of the car, escaped with minor cuts and bruises.

The Blairs were en route from their home in Clintonville, Pa., to Grove City. Because of several freight cars standing on another track at the crossing it is believed that Blair failed to see the train.

To End Severe Cough Quickly, Try This

For real results, this old home-made remedy beats them all. Easily prepared.

You'll never know how quickly a bad cough can be conquered, until you try this famous home-made remedy. The immediate relief given is almost like magic. It is easily prepared, and there is nothing better for coughs.

Into a pint bottle, put 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. Or you can use clarified honey, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, the full pint saves about two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, and gives you a more positive, effective remedy. It keeps perfectly, and tastes pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold instantly, soothing and healing the membranes in all the air passages. It promptly loosens a dry, tight cough, and soon you will notice the phlegm thin out and disappear. A day's use will usually break up an ordinary throat or chest cold, and it is also splendid for bronchitis, hoarseness, and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and palatable guaiacol, the most reliable remedy for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Work On Arthur McGill School Is Moving Along Nicely

Good progress is being made in the enlargement of the Arthur McGill school, located on the corner of Albert and Norwood avenues. Eight new rooms are being added to the building, besides an auditorium and kindergarten. These rooms when completed will take care of 300 more pupils.

On the south side of the building it will be three stories, the rest being a two-story structure. In this three-story part the kindergarten will be located in the basement, while the third floor will be made up of class rooms. The middle section will be the auditorium.

The greater part of the remodeling work is being done on the south and west sides of the building, the eight new class rooms being built onto the rear of the old building, and the work being done on the south side making a great improvement in the appearance, as well as the importance of the school.

Says Louisville Players Way Back In 1876 "Crooked"

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, Jan. 4.—"If Judge Landis really wants to clean up baseball, let him send for me. I'll give him the details of how Louisville threw a batch of games in the National League the first year the circuit was formed, 1876."

This was the information offered here today by George Strief, 70, federal court bailiff, and star of the big league baseball 50 years ago.

"Jim Devlin, pitcher; George Hall, fielder; Craber, catcher, and Nichols, third baseman, got together and threw a number of games so that Louisville lost the pennant," Strief declared.

"The league officials found it out, though, and expelled the four for life."

The News, By Mail, One Year $5.00

Confusion Exists Over Loans On Compensation Certificates Of Veterans

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Indignant protests poured into the capitol today by telegraph and mail from World War vetreans who unsuccessfully tried to get loans from banks on their adjusted compensation certificates as soon as the banks opened for the new year.

The complaint was almost universally the same:

"The banks won't loan any money on them."

Thousands of certificates reached maiturity of loan value the first of the year, and according to reports gathered today there was a concerted rush for the banks by many veterans. The banks are legally empowered to make the loans, although there exists no compulsion to do so.

Government officials said today they believed the situation would "clear itself up" in a few days. They explained the failure of many banks to extend loans on the ground the banks themselves may not fully understand the bonus law, or if they do many of them may not care for the "small business" offered by the certificates.

The maximum certificate only had a loan value on January 1 of less than $200. The loan value increases with the years.

Ultimately, it was predicted today by government officials, one or several banks in each large community will specialize in certificate loans, thus getting enough business to make it profitable. It was inevitable, they said, that some confusion would attend the inauguration of the system.

Twenty "Fast Steppers" Working Out Daily At Local Race Track

"On N, 42; on G, 65; Bingo!" "Here's where you win a nice baby doll!"

Yes; We were out to the New Castle Fair grounds yesterday, but the midway presented a different aspect from what it did some 3 months ago. No tents, no booths, no shouting hawkers nor toy balloons. All lay sleeping under a blanket of white.

No, not all. For what is that we see coming around the race track? A race horse? As sure as you live a real race horse tearing around the track in a cart, his hoofs flinging snow balls back at the driver.

We heard two men over the radio the other evening arguing the question, "Where do the flies go in the winter?" So we have often wondered where do the race horses go in the winter, and were pleased to learn that warmly stabled out on the New Castle Fair grounds are 20 race horses. Two trainers of race horses, Wm. Crookton and Mr. Johnston take these beauties out every day and put them through their paces so that they will be in the best of training when the summer sun again brings the lather out on their backs as they fly around the track.

Among the horses there are not only found such as Minnie Williams with a record of 2:06¼ and other noted racers and would be record makers, but one sees even a little 9-month colt learning his first steps toward fame. This baby of the track is known as Jean Forbes.

Yes, there is still life out at the Fair Grounds in the mid-winter but it is at the stables rather than the midway. All else is deserted.

Ministers Asked To Preach Sermons On Law Enforcement

Women's Christian Temperance Union of Lawrence county and all ministers of the county are asked to join in special observance of the seventh anniversary of prohibition in America.

The W. C. T. U. throughout the nation, as well as the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, recommend that all ministers preach on law enforcement on January 16.

Thoughtful people recognize the crisis in our country, what we as citizens face, and feel that the church should be aroused to its responsibility; also all ministers of Lawrence county are asked to attend the victory luncheon of Lawrence county W. C. T. U., which will be an event of Saturday, Jan. 15, at one o'clock, in the First Baptist church.

Report Fall Passes Crisis, Is Recovering

(International News Service)

EL PASO, Tex., Jan. 4.—Having passed the last day of the crisis in his illness here yesterday, Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, today was said to be regaining his strength rapidly.

Unless the patient suffers a relapse from the pneumonia which has kept him in bed since Dec. 26, Fall may be able to be out again in a very short time, Dr. H. T. Safford, his physician, said today.

"AIR YACHT" WILL HAVE ALL COMFORTS OF HOME

CROYDON England, Jan. 4.—A salon with rich carpets and hangings, comfortable arm chairs which can be removed and beds substituted for night flying, and a completely equipped lavatory with wash basins and mirrors are some of the luxuries of an airplane being built for Captain Alfred Loewenstein, Belgian millionaire.

There is a small foyer at the entrance to the "apartments" which will be heated in winter and cooled by a diffused air system in summer. The claim is made that the plane will be the most luxuriously equipped "air yacht" in the world. Captain Loewenstein designated it for his private use, and he will be able to have five guests with him on his air journeys.

Night Clubs Hard Hit By Suckers' Scarcity

$40 An Empty Plate, $20 Quart For Synthetic Liquor Proof Of Dwindling Patronage

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—A decrease in "the supply of suckers" in night clubs was noted by the New York "World" today. It says the clubs at their best are no more than poor substitutes for the old-time saloon back rooms, and at their worst hang outs for white-collar thieves.

The ever-increasing prices, the newspaper asserts, are but camouflage for dwindling patronage. The better class of citizen, it says, declines to be further made a "sucker" by "as educated a group of money seekers as this city has developed in its sophisticated history."

Poor food, worse liquor and cheap entertainment, says the "World," are offered for "the boys from the Bronx or Brooklyn, or from Yale, Harvard and Princeton," or "for the male or female spender, sucker, fall guy, easy mark, or whatever you want to call it."

On New Year's eve, the "World" says, the clubs with cover charges as high as $40 an empty plate, synthetic liquor at $20 a quart, and not fit to drink, and water at $2 a pitcher, set the stage for the greatest cleanup in Broadway's history.

But, according to the "World," the "cleanup" failed to materialize. By 3 o'clock, when gaiety was supposed to be at its height, many of the clubs were already dark. While reservations were heavy, it was only the "sucker" and the "elderly playboy" with money to squander who remained, says the "World."

Forceful Message By Evangelist In First Baptist

Rev. Melvin Morris Gives Exposition Of "The Swimming Axe" Monday Evening

Those who attended the evangelistic services at the First Baptist church last night heard a strong and penetrating sermon by "Mel" Morris, who is conducting a three weeks' campaign here. Mr. Morris' subject was "The Swimming Axe" and was an exposition of the story in Second Kings, chapter six. In introducing his theme, the speaker asserted his firm belief in the miracle of the swimming axe, as well as all the other miracles recorded in God's Word.

The evangelist used the lost axe-head of Elisha's servant as an illustration of the lost power and spirituality of many servants of God. "Power is often lost," declared Mr. Morris, "when we are actively engaged in the work of the Lord. People often become so busy that they forget to pray, read the Bible, continue the family altar. Such a condition results in lost power and effectiveness and renders further service futile," asserted the speaker. He then showed that the only way for spiritual power to be recovered was to return in humble confession to God, and renounce the thing which caused the departure. "The axe was found exactly where it had been lost, and the man knew the very spot; so it is with all of us who have lost out spirtually," he said. "The prophet commanded that a stick or cudgel should be cut and thrown into the water where the axe-head had disappeared, and immediately the iron did swim." The speaker used this as an illustration of how souls are recovered and restored when the Word of God is preached to them. "The drawing power of Jesus Christ in the Word is what we need to have in our midst today, if our churches are to be revived," declared the speaker.

The meeting opened with a spirited song service, led by John W. Owens. Prayer was offered by Rev. W. G. Woodrow. A solo, "Heaven", was sung in a most impressive manner by D. S. Williams.

Parlor meetings for Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock were announced to be held in the following homes: George Bell, 310 Elizabeth street, Roscoe Harrison leader; Mrs. Masters, 705 Blaine street, George M. Landis leader; Mrs. Cochran, 702 Court street, Mr. Morris leader.

This evening Mr. Morris will speak on the subject "The Devil's Stranglehold" and Wednesday night on "The World-Wide Gospel Message."

Claims Egg Laying Record For Flock

R. D. No. 9, New Castle, Pa.
Editor of News,
Dear Sir:

My flock of single-combed White Leghorn chickens has established what I believe is a record for this locality. For the month of November my flock of 75 hens laid 1,530 eggs, an average of 20 1-2 eggs per hen. For the month of December 72 hens, I having lost three, laid 1,520 eggs, an average of 21 1-10 eggs per hen.

My gross profit for the two months was $159. The cost of the feed was $32, leaving a net profit excluding cost of labor of $127.

For the month of December there were five hens that laid 26 eggs and one that laid 27.

These chickens are from Hanson's pedigreed trapnested stock. Hanson being the owner of the ex-world champion egg-laying hen.

Yours truly,
CHARLES E. HOOD.

Firemen Save Small Village Fire Threatened

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—A strong breeze and heroic work of volunteer fire-fighters saved the village of Rosslyn, Va., just across the Potomac, from being wiped out by fire early today.

Fire broke out in the plant of the Penn Oil Company and only strenuous work prevented the lames reaching 500,000 gallons of gasoline. There were a dozen minor explosions. Damage was estimated at half a million dollars.

New Castle Force At New Year's Party

One of the most interesting parties of the New Year season was that given by Dr. C. K. Barton at Kahkwa Park Inn, Erie, to his force of employes from Erie, Bradford, New Castle, Sharon and Warren; also a few invited guests, on New Year's day. Arrangements for the party were made by Dr. F. L. Wertz, to whom goes much of the credit for its great success.

The day was started at Dr. Barton's Erie office, 1128 State street, where the men assembled in business session and planned their work for the year of 1927, and the women repaired to the matinee at the Perry theater.

At 6:30 o'clock the entire party journeyed to Kahkwa Park Inn, where Mr. Moeller, the genial host, had prepared an elaborate banquet.

During the dinner the guests were entertained by delightful music by an orchestra, and a few special numbers by some of the guests. The Apache dance as staged by Dr. Joey, with Dr. Petry as his lady (Dr. Petry's make-up as a lady was perfect) brought thunderous applause from the guests. The Charleston, as interpreted by Miss Fritz and Miss Beible, was well applauded, as was Dr. Joey's Charleston solo.

After the banquet dancing was enjoyed to the dreamy waltz and peppy jazz music of the orchestra until 12 o'clock. Those attending were Dr. C. K. Barton, Miss McCallister, Dr. F. L. Wertz and wife, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Lias, Dr. Joey, Dr. Fitchthorn, Dr. Bryson, Dr. E. J. Petry and wife, Dr. P. Palace and wife, Dr. L. Vosburg, Miss Halliday, Miss Fritz, Miss Kling, Miss Bieble, Miss Stratton, Miss Young, Miss Wepler, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. House, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Coates of Erie, Dr. Grady, Dr. Marsh and Perry Wilber from Bradford; Dr. and Mrs. Long and Dr. Jack Lytle, from Warren; Dr. W. D. Fawcett, wife and daughter, Miss Jane, and Miss Linberg, from Sharon; Dr. and Mrs. Woods, from New Castle, and Miss Corsley, from Pittsburgh.

Persons seeking to lengthen the span of life should get up a correspondence course of instruction in quicker leaping when crossing the street.

WEST VIRGINIA MINERS REFUSE TO ACCEPT CUT

Some 150 Non-Union Miners Refuse To Accept Salary Cut, Stage Strike

(International News Service)

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va., Jan. 4. Refusing to accept a wage cut which would mean a return to the 1917 wage scale, substantially below that under which they have been working for some time, approximately 150 non-union miners today refused to return to work in the Panama mine of the Ben Franklin Coal Company, near here.

Only 15 men entered the mine yesterday, the first day of the new scale. Leaders of the strikers announced they planned to hold out until the higher scale was put into effect again, while mine operators predicted that all would eventually return under the new scale.

Workers at McKeefrey mine, near here, accepted the cut and returned to work, it was reported. There was no indication that other operators planned to put the 1917 scale into effect soon, it was said.

Who's Who In Hollywood Mystery Of 1927 Who's Who

By GUY PRICE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Jan. 4.—If you desire to ascertain who's who in Hollywood by a perusal of the 1927 edition of Who's Who in America, you are very apt to learn who "ain't."

For a review of this latest compilation of those who "have achieved special prominence in creditable lines of effort, making them the subjects of extensive interest, inquiry or discussion," shows that but 22 Hollywoodites—17 men and five women—are included.

One cannot help but wonder, after reviewing those who are in the book, the exact nature of the "extensive interest, inquiry or discussion" that brought them the coveted honor, to the exclusion of so many of their brethren.

One will search in vain for Theda Bara's name and if she didn't create "interest, inquiry and discussion" with her introduction of vampire roles and the introduction of the word "vamp" in the English language, who did?

Neither will one find Betty Blythe. Didn't her undraped form in "The Queen of Sheba" arouse discussion, plaudits and criticism? Try also and find Raoul Walsh, who directed "The Thief of Bagdad"; Marshall Neilan or Reginald Barker, each with a score of screen successes to his credit.

Mack Sennett, who first called attention to the fact that America had bathing beauties, is omitted. So are Greta Garbo, Fred Niblo and Shirley Mason, Anita Stewart, Jack Gilbert, King Vidor and Wallace Beery.

Pola Negri isn't mentioned under this or any other name and the same can be said of Colleen Moore, Betty Compson, Kathleen Williams, Anna Q. Nilsson or Mrs. Lew Cody, nee Mabel Normand.

Certainly Ben Turpin's eyes have aroused discussion and he is left out, so is Jack Dempsey and his actress wife, Estelle Taylor.

Now for those who ARE in the little red book.

There is J. Stuart Blackton, organizer with Albert E. Smith of the Vitagraph Co., in 1900 which was the first company to make screen photoplays. It seems a bit incongruous, but Smith's name cannot be found in the book.

Charlie Chaplin, of course, is given 21 lines, with the interesting note that he is a member of the Societe des Beaux Arts of Paris.

Jackie Coogan is the only Coogan in the book. Does anyone recall that Jackie wears the Greek "Silver Cross of the Order of George" or the "Cross of the Order of Jerusalem"? Well, he does and they were presented by the Greek government and the Greek orthodox church for work in the children's crusade.

How many people know Cecil B. DeMille as a banker? He is vice president of the Commercial Trust and Savings bank and occupies the same position with the Bank of America besides being chairman of the advisory Board of the Bank of Italy.

Underneath Cecil De Mille's name appears the name of William C. DeMille with the interesting information that he is a "Jeffersonian Democrat and an Episcopalian."

Douglas Fairbanks receives 19 lines, 13 of which are taken up with a list of his screen successes. Like Harold Lloyd, he was born in Denver. The latter, by the way is Hollywood's most inveterate clubman, the comedian claiming membership in 10 clubs.

It took some time to find the name of Mary Pickford. It was found, however, and revealed the interesting, if true, information that Fairbanks is a resident of Los Angeles while Miss Pickford resided in Beverly Hills. Another Hollywood scandal.

The late Thomas H. Ince is given credit for discovering Sessue Hayakawa, the Japanese actor, who happens to be in Los Angeles at the present time. William S. Hart was the one-time leading man for Modjeska, Madame Rhea and Julia Arthur. He has been in pictures since 1914.

Mary Miles Minter, who eschewed motion pictures considerably over a year ago, has a very long notice. Clara Kimball Young and Pauline Frederick are dismissed with a few lines.

One will find a notice of Norma Talmadge with the fact that she is the wife of Joseph M. Schenck. But one will search in vain for any data of Mr. Schenck. Also notices of Constance and Natalie Talmadge, but their husbands are omitted.

Did anyone know that Milton Sills was a frequent speaker on "art, literature and religion"? Well, he is, and Who's Who gives him full credit.

Page 1926 reveals that the real name of the late Rudolph Valentino, was Rudolpho Alfonso Raffaeli Pierre Filibert Guglielmi Di Valentina d'Antongiolla.

And speaking of names Gloria Swanson was not born Swanson, press agents to the contrary notwithstanding or Who's Who is a prevaricator. For it states there that her parents were named Klanowsky. Take it or leave it.

Others who are mentioned are: Otis Harlan, Douglas McLean, Tom Mix, Charles Ray, Robert Edeson, Frank Keenan, Rupert Hughes, Tully Marshall, Jim Tully, Frances Marion, Byron Morgan, Frank H. Spearman, H. C. Witwer, Peter B. Kyne, Rob Wagner, Luis Weber, and Clara Kimball Young. Col. William N. Selig has a prominent place also. His middle name is revealed as being "Nichols."

Will Rogers is the last on the list of Beverly Hills residents. It is stated that he attended Kemper Military academy "for a short time." Wonder what the story is behind that?

The millenium will have been reached when a law is required to compel men to stop working at quitting time.

Seats Assigned To Legislators

Lawrence County Men Are Given Seats For Session Of Legislature

(From News Bureau State Capital)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 4.—There is one man in Harrisburg who seems to be receiving attention at the present time which might ordinarily be expected where royalty is concerned. He is Milton K. Burgner, resident clerk, whose first job in the new General Assembly is to assign seats to the members of the House of Representatives.

Up in his office on the first floor of the Capitol is a chart, much like the floor plan of a theatre, which shows 208 seats, each one of which will be occupied by a representative.

His job is not an easy one. Everybody wants an aisle seat, and everybody wants as close to the front as it is possible to get. And in order to get a good seat, every representative has written, called upon, and had various and sundry friends importuning Mr. Burgner for the past two weeks.

Lawrence county's delegation has been treated eminently fairly. Milton A. Bickett, representative of the second district of Lawrence county, and a second termer, drew an aisle seat on the left aisle, about half way back. His seat number is 136.

Bart Richards, representing the first district, the City of New Castle, drew seat number 186, an aisle seat on the left center aisle, next to the last row of course, but in view of the fact that there are not many vacancies, a good seat. This was the seat of M. A. Bickett in the last session.

Over in the Senate, George T. Weingartner, representing the counties of Lawrence and Beaver was moved up, and drew seat number eleven, an aisle seat in the second row. Only a very few seats in the senate chamber are any better, and Senator Weingartner is entirely satisfied with his good fortune.

STOP BAD BREATH

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

Olive Tablets bring no griping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after 20 years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take nightly for a week and note the effect. 15c, 30c, 60c. All Druggists.

BANK BANDIT FOILS ARMED POSSE BY TAKING OWN LIFE

PEORIA, Ill., Jan. 4.—Rather than face a posse of heavily armed citizens, a man, believed to be Henry Smith, 26, Chippewa Falls, Wis., took his life yesterday afternoon shortly after he held up the First National bank of Secor, Ill., and obtained $1,000. He fled from the bank after forcing four employes into a vault, but in his haste he forgot to twirl the combination and his prisoners escaped and spread the alarm to nearby towns.

On the road to El Paso, the bandit saw the posse waiting for him. He slowed his car, whipped out his gun and shot himself in the head. The car, an expensive new sedan, was wrecked.

New College Idea Is To Train Women As Effecient Housekeepers

By M. F. DACEY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

DENVER, Jan. 4.—The idea of a college whose main purpose is to train women to become housewives is highly commended by Chancellor Heber R. Harper, of the University of Denver.

"Perhaps the modern colleges are not doing as much as they should to educate their students practically," he declared, and intimated that the experiment proposed in New York City where such a college is to be founded by means of a million and a quarter dollar donation by William Van Duzer Lawrence, may result in other colleges offering similar training.

"If this new college attempts to enlighten young women on the prospects of the career that they are most likely to follow in the long run, that of wife and mother, and does it in good faith, other schools may follow the example," the educator said.

With a large proportion of coeds, the student body of the University of Denver would make a particularly suitable field for such an experiment.

Educators in various parts of the country have been casting about for some means of training the co-ed for the position she is usually destined to fill, that of housekeeper. President Clarence Cook Little, of the University of Michigan, for example, recently roused a storm of protest among women graduates of that institution when he proposed to offer coeds a choice of two fields of study, the one preparatory for a career of some sort, the other giving practical courses in home-making, health preservation, household economics, and similar domestic sciences of college rank. The graduate women protested against such unfair discrimination between the sexes, but no such oposition was detected among the students.

Chancellor Harper of Denver University, is firmly convinced of the practical value of a general education, no matter what occupation the graduate may enter. Although many college subjects, such as aesthetics or Greek, have little bearing on office work or mending clothes, the training received in college prepares the student for many of the problems he meets in his work, the Chancellor pointed out.

The strengthening of character and development of ability resultant from a liberal arts course can be directly applied to the student's job, whatever it is, according to the Chancellor.

Star Of Wales Lodge Will Meet

True Ivorites To Have Session On Saturday Night—Welsh News Notes

The regular meeting of the Star of Wales Lodge No. 60, True Ivorites of America, will be held Saturday evening, January 8, at 7:30 sharp in the Emanuel Baptist church.

A letter came to the lodge from Wales notifying the friends who have been doing so much for them, that conditions are coming back to normal. The work in this country has started in full again, but it will take many months for the workers to get good pay. When the thanks are sent to the American people for this, it will be well to know that the Relief Committee of this city has already sent $250 which has helped the women and children of the thankful miners.

Two new Welsh people have come to this city Mr. and Mrs. William Thomas, who left their home in Laruant, South Wales, last October for the United States and have fallen in love with the city of New Castle.

A letter was received from Mr. and Mrs. William J. Davies of Wallace avenue who are located at the present time in a place called New Smyrna, Florida. They say that the weather there is lovely. They wish a happy New Year to the staff of the New Castle News and all their friends in New Castle.

It is pleasing to the members of the lodge to hear that Mrs. Daniel Williams of Sheridan avenue is recovering very nicely after three weeks of illness and pain. Mrs. Williams is one of the members of the Welsh societies of New Castle and will be welcomed back into them on her full recovery.

FOR Acid Stomach PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

Better Than Soda

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. Besides, it neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges this souring waste from the system without purging. It is far more pleasant to take than soda.

Try a 25c Bottle

Insist upon "Phillips". Twenty-five cent and fifty-cent bottles, any drug store. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor, Charles H. Phillips, since 1875.

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 4.—A large number of members of the Fraternal Patriotic American lodge met last evening in their lodge rooms in the Luxenburg Hall and heard an interesting report from the auditor. Installation of officers for 1927 will take place at the next meeting which will occur in two weeks.

A Sure Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

Lodge To Meet In New Rooms

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Jan. 4.—The initial meeting in the new lodge rooms in the Sons of Colombus hall tonight will be the experience of the members of the local P. H. C. Important matters will be taken up at this time regarding the lodge activities for the coming year.

Truck Slips, Hits Car; No Persons Injured

Delay on the Highland line at 4:12 p. m. was caused by a Kline Lumber company truck slipping on Highland hill and backing into a P.-O. car filled with school children. No one was hurt.

According to P.-O. company reports, the lumber slid from the truck and then the truck backed into the front part of the car doing damage that necessitated the car being taken from service.

A delay of approximately 20 minutes resulted, and all cars on the line were tied up.

Move To Bar Smith Takes Another Turn

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—The proposal to bar Senator-designate Frank L. Smith, Republican, of Illinois from the Senate took a new turn today with his opponents prepared to open fire on him at once.

Without waiting upon Smith to definitely accept or reject the appointment, Senator McKellar, Democrat, of Tennessee announced he would open debate on the appointment this afternoon. McKellar was expected to oppose the naming of Smith as the successor to the late Senator William B. McKinley and to urge his exclusion from the Senate.

Smith's delay in announcing his intentions and his present dilatory tactics caused his opposition to decide on carrying the fight to him instead of waiting for him to present his credentials here. As the degate threatens to block all other business, administration leaders have sent urgent messages to the Illinois man, urging him either to reject the appointment or to come to Washington at once and "face the music".

Leaders of the opposition meanwhile predicted they would command sufficient votes to bar Smith at the door by refusing him the right to take his oath of office.

The hope of Smith's friends in the Senate was to secure a majority favoring the administering of his oath of office and then prevail upon the Senate to decide that a two-thirds vote was necessary to expel him. All indications point against the success of this plan.

Driven From Bed, Gas Presses Heart

"I was bothered with gas so bad that I had to get up nights on account of the pressure of gas on my heart. I used Adlerika and have been entirely relieved."—R. F. Krueger.

Adlerika is a compound of the best saline intestinal cleanser with glycerine, buckthorn, cascara and other gas-expelling and detergent elements. It is excellent for Intestinal Stasis, a disease due to modern ways of living and which is often the true cause of sour stomach, gas bloating, nervous dyspepsia and restless sleep.

Unlike most medicines, Adlerika acts upon BOTH upper and lower bowel, giving the intestines a REAL cleansing and bringing out old poisonous matter you never thought was in your system. Even if bowels move daily, you will be surprised how much more old matter Adlerika brings out which may have been causing all your trouble. In slight disorders, like occasional constipation, GAS bloating, indigestion or sick headache, ONE spoonful always brings relief.

Doctors Praise Adlerika.

Dr. H. L. Shoub, New York: 'Adlerika, in addition to its intestinal cleansing, checks the growth of intestinal bacteria."

Dr. A. C. Curl: "I prescribe Adlerika with highly satisfactory results."

Dr. J. Weaver: "In my 50 years' practice, I have found nothing to excel Adlerika."

J. E. Puckett: "After using Adlerika, I feel better than for 20 years. Awful impurities were eliminated from my system."

Dr. F. M. P. (name withheld by request): "I use Adlerika in all bowel cases. Some require only one dose."

No matter what you have tried for your stomach and bowels, Adlerika will surprise you. At leading druggists. In New Castle at Love & Megown's.

Texas Botanist Finds New Kind Of Oak Tree

(International News Service)
AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 4.—What is believed to be a new oak tree was discovered in Goliad county, Texas, by Dr. B. C. Tharp, associate professor of botany in the University of Texas, while making a survey of South Texas.

Specimens of the tree, its fruit, and the like, have been sent to the Arnold Arboretum of Harvard University, in order to find out whether the discovery is really a new species of the oak, Dr. Tharp said. The botany department of the University of Texas is also doing further work on the new oak.

On this last field trip, Dr. Tharp and his party worked in Gonzales, Goliad, Bueces, Kleberg, Brooks-Hidalgo, Jim Wells and Live Oak counties.

Work on the native vegetation of the counties, including the bringing in of seeds for planting in the University's botanical garden, is the purpose of these field trips, Dr. Tharp stated.

Denies Florida Right To Void Estate Taxes

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Florida was denied permission by the supreme court today to challenge the validity of the inheritance tax provisions of the present federal revenue law. The court held that the state had failed to establish that it was suffering a wrong which furnished ground for redress by the courts.

No country is doomed until its pride begins to feed exclusively on its past.

Collects $22,000 In County Fines

Parole Officer In Mercer Makes New Record For Past Year

MERCER, Pa., Jan. 4.—Collection of fines amounting to $22,000 for the year 1926 by Parole Officer Rev. W. T. K. Thompson of Mercer county hangs out a new record for that official which is over 50 per cent in excess of the fines collected in any previous year of the six since his appointment, the next in size being that of 1925, when $14,000 was collected.

Not only is the sum collected the largest, but the number of paroled prisoners turned over to him is also a record-breaker; the numbering being 200 for the year. Of the prisoners paroled 75 per cent are defendants in liquor suits. Under a system invoked by Judge J. A. McLaughry, these defendants are released on parole when half their sentence is served on payment of costs and fine. The fines run in amount from $100 to $1,000. That the system of paroling and collecting fines is workable is proven in the statement of the parole officer that 95 per cent of those entrusted to his care make payment. Some of them of the more opulent class of bootleggers make payments at once. Others are forced to pay as they can from their earnings.

The official now has on his books 150 paroled prisoners. The sum collected by him during the year will offset the court expenses of the county without difficulty.

Britain Makes Slow Speed On Singapore Base

Three Years Of Effort Leave Little To Show In Way Of Progress

When Completed Base Will Assume Important Place In Empire Affairs

(International News Service)

SINGAPORE.—Although it has been in the hands of the British Admiralty for about three years, the site of the Singapore Naval Base at Seletar has advanced only slightly from its original state of swampy desolation.

Seletar is 15 miles from Singapore, on the northeast side of the island, and is reached only by road—a good road most of the way, but very indifferent in parts. It is ten or twelve miles from the eastern end of the strait which separates Singapore island from the mainland of Johore, and is approached by sea only from the east, although small native craft may go through the lock to the west of the causeway carrying the Singapore—Kuala Lumpur—Panang railway.

The strait is about three-quarters of a mile wide and the land at either side is covered by virgin jungle and some rubber plantations. Many acres of rubber are to be cut down for the base and the trees have been going to ruin for two or three years although they ought to be producing well.

Swamp Drained

A swamp has been drained and some clearing done for the base. Attractive and comfortable bungalows have been built on a hill for administrative offices and officers' and men's quarters; a brough pile jetty has been built and there are several workshops at which light engineering jobs and small castings can be done.

The dredging for the new floating dock's mooring has begun. It will take at least 18 months if not two years to excavate the berth which will be over 70 feet deep and sloping down from normal sea bed on completion some 400 yards long and 300 yards wide.

As it would take six months to tow the dock out from England, Hong Kong, which has suffered much by trade depression and China troubles is anxious to build the dock. Hong Kong has the facilities but of course most of the material would come from England. Hong Kong is five days from Singapore.

Build Two Docks.

Two graving docks are to be built at the base but there is no sign of these yet. A few miles further inland and within view of the main railway is the oil storage for the base and already nearly 40 large tanks have been built. An air station will be on the sea side of the naval base—the site has yet to be cleared of rubber and jungle—and behind this on a hill is a naval wireless station in commission and working.

The port of Singapore is of great and growing importance to Britain's eastern trade—its annual tonnage clearance comes next to that of Liverpool—and it is a pivotal point in the empire air routes to Australia and New Zealand.

Soon it will have a four-fold importance—a commercial centre by sea and air and a naval centre by sea and air in addition to the export trade of rubber, tin and tropical produce from the Malay peninsula.

Illinois Will Seek Legislation For Handling Mental Defectives

By GEORGE A. STRICKLER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Jan. 4.—New legislation to protect society against the depredations of mental defectives will be asked in the forthcoming session of the General Assembly.

Representative Thomas J. Grady, of Chicago, at that time will introduce into the assembly a resolution providing for the creation and maintenance of a farm for unfortunates of this description.

Rep. Grady will also introduce at the same time a bill providing for an appropriation of approximately $500,000 to buy a site for the farm, erect buildings and arrange its operation.

Moved by the recent slaying of six-year-old Walter Schmith, Rep. Grady formulated the resolutions he has said he would introduce and began assembling his friends for a concentrated campaign for its immediate passage.

Might Have Saved Child

"Such a farm would have prevented the slaying of little Schmith," the representative declared. "It would have prevented scores of other serious offenses against society and will put a stop to hundreds of cases inevitable in the future unless action is taken an once."

Schmith was beaten to death by Harold Joseph Crorakin, according to the latter's confession to police, the slaying following circumstances similar in numerous ways to the famous Bobby Franks murder several years ago, for which Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold are now serving life sentences.

Rep. Gray's resolution will include the creation of a commission of alienists to test the sanity of persons arrested for moronic crimes and tendencies, and will give that commission power to commit morons to the colony.

The resolution will propose that the colony be established in Cook County (Chicago).

A number of other individuals and organizations have intiated similar action since the Schmith murder. Anton J. Cermak, president of the Cook County board, has asked the public service committee of Cook County to create its own colony for the treating of special cases from the juvenile court.

Judge Olson's Views

Harry Olson, chief justice of the Municipal Court, and a member of the committee on criminal procedure of the American Institute of Law, in an interview on the Schmith case, advanced a similar solution of this growing problem.

He also suggested that a special department of police be created to keep informed of the presence of mental defectives in communities. Police on beats and public spirited individuals would give these special officers tips on such cases.

Under this plan a strict check would be maintained on the juvenile court, the boys' criminal court, and the ward rooms of public and private schools.

"A competent psychiatric examination would then determine whether the individual was of the dangerous type," Olson explained. "The parents and society, thus informed, would safeguard the general public from potential danger of such individuals."

"This community has had thirteen years," declared Judge Olson, "in which it has been forceably demonstrated that such individuals who commit these crimes are capable of being identified before they kill. It's time to do something besides hang them. Hanging is alright, but with preventive measures the victim is not in his grave.

Hanging will prevent future outrages by the same individual, but the depredations of another moron."

'MA' FERGUSON GIVES PARDONS TO 27 MORE, CUTS SLAYER'S TERM

AUSTIN, Tex., Jan. 4.—Governor Miriam A. (Ma) Ferguson yesterday granted 27 full pardons and commuted the life sentence imposed on Homer Fleming of Kimble county, convicted of slaying his wife, to three years. She also issued a parole.

This sheaf of clemency proclamations brought her total at 2,979. She had exceeded the clemency records of previous executives some time ago.

Her two-year term will end January 18. To date she has granted 799 full and 815 conditional pardons, besides paroles and commutations.

Chicago Art Bolsheviks Announce New Fad

ARTIST COMPLETES TWO-YEAR TOUR

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Jan. 4.—Art bolsheviks have put over a new one in Chicago.

An exhibit of paintings of Chicago artists held in a cabaret in the heart of the city's "night life" district has proved an immense success.

The exhibit, its sponsors said, attracted not only the leading members of the mid-west's art colonies, but gave potential artists in out-of-town "butter and egg" men an inspiration to at least look for the best in art.

Striving for something out-of-the ordinary, the artists decided a display at a cabaret with its moaning saxophones and glaring lights would attract. And it did. The success of the initial cabaret show is being widely copied and Chicago's theatres, cafes and clubhouses are now fostering displays of the city's painters.

A two years' tour of the world has found expressions in a decidedly interesting display of paintings of William Ritschel, the Californian, at the Chicago Art Institute.

Leaving his home at Monterey, Calif., the artist travelled East and his paintings include scenes in New York, fish wives in Lisbon, water Venice, Java natives, gorgeous sunsets at sea, young women of Morea and scenes in Tahiti.

How girls of mid-western states are willing to stoop to conquer art is shown in a recent survey of students at the Chicago art institute. Scores of the girls studying here, it was shown, are employed during most of their art school days, earning money for their work with pencil and brush. Many of the young women are waitresses, telephone operators and cash girls.

How works of the great masters are faked and sold to a gullible public is to be told in Chicago this month in a series of lectures by L. Earl Rowe, director of the Rhode Island School of Design. Rowe, who is coming to Chicago to serve on the jury of the Chicago, Artists' exhibition, will talk on "Fakes and Forgeries." Rowe is an authority of the faking of old masters, said to be a common practice both in Europe and America today.

The mystic art of Gjuro Stojana, in a collection of large canvases, is attracting wide attention here. Stojana, whose work the critics are fond of saying is "full of tropical fecundity" is a former California newspaper worker. He was discovered when a boy in a photographer's gallery in Novi Sad by Jeremiah Curtin, at the time connected with the Bureau of Ethnology at Washington.

Curtin invited Stojana to this country but shortly after Stojana's arrival, the Washington man died. The artist then left on a rambling tour of the country, which ended in California, where he did newspaper work. Later he went to New Mexico and painted and worked at various crafts. He also visited the Sandwich Islands and the East Indies. His paintings now showing here are the work of his visit to the Island of Bali in the East Indies.

Who remembers away back yonder when we used to wonder if women had knees?

Dr. A. E. Ortmann, Of Carnegie Museum Dies After Long Illness

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 4.—Dr. Arnold Edward Ortmann, 64, curator of invertebrate zoology of Carnegie Museum here, and internationally known as a scientist, explorer, author and educator, is dead here today after an extended illness.

He also made a survey of the waters of North and South Carolina, and wrote several works upon his observations.

A native of Prussia, Dr. Ortmann received his early education and for a time taught in various European universities, coming to Princeton in 1903, and later joining the staff of Carnegie Museum.

The widow, one son and two daughters survive.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

BY MRS. MARY MORTON

MENU HINT

Dainty little sandwiches to serve with afternoon tea or for evening affairs may be originated with the hostess. Coffee or cocoa is usually served with evening refreshments, tea in the afternoon. With this exception the menus may be practically the same, although if there are men at the evening affair some rather hearty sandwiches may be served with those less hearty.

Sandwiches
Olives Pickles
Frosted Cakes Candies
Tea or Coffee

TODAY'S RECIPES

Mushroom and Olive Sandwiches—One can button mushrooms and half as many stuffed olives, two stalks celery. Halve the mushrooms, cut olives and celery into pieces. Just before making the sandwiches mix all with mayonnaise. Spread on buttered white or whole wheat bread.

Cheese, Cherry and Walnut Sandwiches—One brick cream cheese, thinned with cream and made very light. Add a dozen candied cherries, cut into small pieces and one-half cup chopped black walnut meats. Spread between thin slices of brown or white bread.

Dainty Cakes—Cream one and one-half cups of sugar with one-half cup of butter. Add the yolks of two eggs (beaten) and nearly a cup of milk. Then sift in two cups of flour to which has been added two teaspoons baking powder, one-quarter teaspoonful salt and a little nutmeg. Then add the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs. Bake in muffin tins about 15 or 20 minutes. Frost in different colors.

SUGGESTIONS

After repeated washings you will find that your corsette grows quite flimsy. Try starching it. It gives it a more substantial feeling.

An attractive and tasty garnish for salad is pimento cheese shaped to resemble a carrot. A spring of parsley may be put at the top for green.

If you wish to be sure the layers of your cake are even, weigh them on the kitchen scales when in the tins before putting into the oven.

TODAY'S RECIPES

Baked Oyster Pie—Line an earthenware or glass baking dish with a short biscuit dough and sift over the bottom and sides some dry flour; drain the liquor from four cupfuls of oysters, season with salt, paprika and two tablespoonfuls of melted butter; place the oysters in the dough-covered dish, add one cupful of milk, cover with the biscuit dough, make a small hole in the center, brush with beaten egg and milk and bake in a quick oven.

Apple Sauce Cake—One and one-half cups apple sauce, unsweetened, one cup light brown sugar, one-half cup melted shortening, one cup chopped raisins, one teaspoon cinnamon, one-half teaspoon nutmeg, two teaspoons soda in a little cold water, two cups flour.

MENU HINT

This is the time of year to eat the succulent oyster. Baked oyster pie is a good luncheon dish if you wish a change from the usual soup or scallop.

Baked Oyster Pie
Hard Rolls Currant Jelly
Cole Slaw Apple Sauce Cake
Tea or Coffee

SUGGESTIONS

A Flour Sprinkler

Fill an empty iodized salt box with flour from the large flour can to have on hand for thickening vegetables. It only takes a second to pour what flour you need for whatever you are cooking.

Handy Shelf

Put a shelf six inches wide over the sink and drainboard, at about eye level, about four feet long, or any length, according to available space. On the under side of this put screw hooks such as are used for cups, etc: In the handles of vegetable and other brushes put screw eyes. Then brushes will hang in plain view and dry quickly, and the cleanser cans no longer have to be moved when you want to use your drainboard.

Wash the Line

Wrap the soiled clothesline around the washboard and scrub with soapsuds and a scrubbing brush. Place under the spigot to rinse well and dry in the sunshine. If the line is always clean there is no worry about smudges on the clothes where they have been pinned to it.

JUDGES HEAR CHARGE OF ILLEGAL JURIES

ERIE, Pa., Jan. 4.—Charging that the 1927 jury wheel was illegally filled, District Attorney M. Levant Davis yesterday filed a motion in court challenging the federal grand and traverse jury panels.

Davis charged that Sheriff Thomas G. Sterret has no authority to fill a jury wheel and that Edwin Gerbracht, secretary to the county judges, has no power to sit in at jury filling session in lieu of the judges.

Judge W. E. Hirt issued a rule and said he and Judge U. P. Rossiter will consider the matter.

If the court agrees that the wheel was illegally filled it will result in delaying trial of a large list of cases at the February term of court.

DOG SAVES MASTER CAUGHT WHEN AUTO FALLS FROM JACKS

Campbell had raised the car from the floor of his garage. While he was underneath, the jacks gave way and the machine settled suddenly. The weight of the car was on Campbell's back and his life was being crushed out The dog rushed to the house nearby, barking frantically and Campbell's predicament was discovered. When the machine was raised the dog seized Campbell's clothing and dragged him forth. Physicians say Campbell will recover.

Achievements of Four Years Are Summed Up By Governor Pinchot

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 4.—Gov. Gifford Pinchot in his final address to the joint session of the Pennsylvania legislature here at noon today summed up the achievements of his four-year administration in the following manner:

Has cleaned up the mess; paid off the 32 million dollar debt; established a complete budget system, and put the finances of Pennsylvania back on a pay-as-you-go basis with plenty of money in the bank.

Has reorganized the whole state government, except the elective departments, and made it from a haphazard unworkable jumble into an economical and effective business machine capable of real service to the people.

Has driven politics and political deadheads out of the state service and put appointments and promotions on a basis of merit instead of pull, thus getting a dollar's worth of service for every dollar spent.

Has established and lived up to the principle that a public official is in duty bound to do for the people everything the law permits, not merely what the law directs; and has given a character and amount of legal service to the people never before approached in Pennsylvania.

Has stood squarely behind the 18th amendment; fought for and secured the passage of dry laws with teeth in them; outlawed and broken the power of the saloon; made the state government dry, and used its power from first ot last against law breaking bootleggers, breweries and alcohol distilleries.

Has built more miles of road in four years than were ever built in an equal time by any highway organization in the world; expended $262,000,000 for roads without a breath of scandal, and made the state highways of Pennsylvania better, safer and more convenient for motorists than they ever were before.

Has substituted cooperation for compulsion in its relations with local school authorities; made it possible to pay the state's contributions to school districts on the dot for the first time in many years; defended the public school system against gang politicians, and given our children better schools than they have ever had before.

Has driven politics out of the state hospitals and penitentiaries; put appropriations to state-aided hospitals on a basis of service rendered instead of political pull, and raised the standard of service in institutions everywhere.

Has originated and fought for the giant power policy for better and cheaper electrical service to all the people, and secured the establishment of modern water power laws for Pennsylvania in line with federal policy.

Has refused to play politics with the lives and health of our working people; has taken the factory inspection service out of politics; has established a bureau to study and make safe the work of women and children; and kept down industrial accidents at a time when they are increasing in other industrial commonwealths.

Has promoted cooperation among farmers; eradicated more tuberculosis among cattle than all previous administrations together; protected and extended the farmer's markets; and made the food supply of our people purer and safer than ever before.

Has developed forest protection to a point where for the first time in generations new growth in the forests of Pennsylvania exceeds the loss from fires; and secured the passage of $25,000,000 state forest bond issue through two sessions of the legislature.

Has taken an active part in the settlement of two anthracite coal strikes; and revolutionized the attitude of the state government toward labor and labor problems.

Has shut nearly $800,000,000 of fradulent securities out of Pennsylvania under the new Blue Law; and reconstructed the department of insurance and brought hundreds of questionable insurance companies to book.

Finally, it has honestly tried to keep its pledges and from beginning to end has followed the rule that the public good comes first.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

Beginning next Sunday, THE WORLD Magazine Section will present a new True Short Story feature consisting of twelve unique and sensational narratives. Here is positively the last word in up-to-date realistic detectives tales—true stories that are more gripping than fiction. In the initial story, "Scotland Yard" (complete next Sunday) a lone London "Bobby" and a fluttering curtain set in motion Scotland Yard, the most historic police body in the world. Read No. 1 of these stories in next Sunday's WORLD.

Still it may not be an adverse criticism of a section to say that it produces few books.

Are You "Toxic?"

Good Health Requires Good Elimination.

FUNCTIONAL inactivity of the kidneys permits retention of waste poisons in the blood. This is called a "toxic condition." Symptoms are a dull, languid feeling and often toxic headache, backache and dizziness. That the kidneys are not functioning as they should is sometimes shown by scanty or burning passage of secretions. Many people assist their kidneys in this condition by drinking plenty of pure water and the use of a stimulant diuretic. Doan's Pills have earned a country-wide reputation as a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Users everywhere endorse them. Ask your neighbor!

TIMELY REMINDERS From The Pennsylvania State College

Tile Benefits Farm Lands—Tile drains make a better crop in any year, wet or dry; lengthens the growing season, spring and fall, by warming the soil; remove surplus water, permitting earlier cultivation after rains; reduce heaving or throwing out by frost, and "winter killing"; increase the supply of available plant food; help the growth of desirable organisms; improve granulation; reduce clod formation; deepen root zone for crops; reduce hillside erosion; cut seepage from lowland, and make a big return on the investment when properly applied.

Consider the Consumer—In making out a nursery order, except for the home orchard, select varieties according to the preferences of the consumer rather than your own. Plant only varieties that are standard on the market you expect to use, say Pennsylvania State college fruit specialists.

Save the Landscaping—When shoveling snow off walks and porches be careful not to bury flower borders and fancy dwarf evergreens under masses of snow. After heavy snowfalls, and especially after ice storms, beat the load off branches of evergreens to prevent breakage.

Cull the Laying Flock—Leading poultrymen cull their laying flocks every month. All birds that show dried, shriveled combs, dry yellow vents, yellow beaks, and any signs of molting should be culled. These characteristics denote poor producers. Culling the poor layers gives the laying birds more room at the feed hoppers in the day time and more room on the perches at night.

Two Commuter Trains Out Of Boston Are Named 'Paul Revere' And 'Patriot' Express

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Jan 4.—The only two suburban trains in the United States bearing distinctive names run daily between Boston and Lexington on the Boston & Main railroad. Running to and from the town where the early battles of the Revolutionary War were fought, it was but natural that when the christening took place names reminiscent of that period were chosen.

So, today, instead of taking the "8.09" or the "5.21", commuters along the route refer to their trains as the "Patriot" and the "Paul Revere Express".

The naming of the trains was the outcome of community efforts to retain the service of the road without curtailment that would inconvenience patrons. In recent years the business, both passenger and freight, of the Lexington branch had so fallen off that road officials had asked the Interstate Commerce Commission for permission to curtail service.

Rallying to the defense of the railroad, a needed present-day institution, the people of Lexington formed the Lexington Branch Protective Society. This organization set out to assist road officials in keeping patronage to the point where the usual number of trains could be run daily.

For advertising purposes and to inspire community pride, the society asked and received permission of the road to christen the two trains. With the success of two other crack name-trains in mind, to-wit, the "Minute Man" and "Flying Yankee", these commuter "Minute Men" christened the two suburban trains with popular and historical names.

Great Host At State Capital

Opening Of Legislature Draws Throng Of Politicians To Harrisburg

MANY ARE SEEKING FOR APPOINTMENTS

(From News Bureau, State Capital)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 4.—Ordinarily a city of some 80,000, or perhaps a few odd hundred more, this city of Harrisburg has assumed an importance entirely out of proportion to its population. An importance which seems to have charged the very air and permeates throughout the hotels and capitol building.

The importance is such that even Philadelphia and Pittsburgh are secondary for the time, for these cities have sent in their political leaders to add to the throng of senators, assemblymen, lobbyists, appointees and those who favor being appointees. Of the latter there are a host.

The occasion, of course, is the opening of the General Assembly, which formally takes place in the Capitol today at noon. Actually, the next General Assembly is organized, for those political conferences in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh which have been held in the past few weeks were but for one purpose, and that purpose the establishing of the organization which will control the coming session.

As this was written the entire slate seems to be made, and while the formality of the elections will be held on Tuesday, the men who will be represented are "in the bag", so to speak. In the Senate Senator Samuel Salus will be the president, pro tem; W. Harry Baker will be the secretary, and John McKirdy of Pittsburgh will be the chief clerk.

In the House, Thomas C. Bluett of Philadelphia, Pa., will be elected speaker; Milton C. Burgner will also be re-elected as resident clerk.

Like the Cleveland Hotel was during the 1924 Republican convention, the Penn-Harris Hotel is the storm center of activity. Right now it could easily be termed the unofficial capitol.

In the lobby can be seen almost everybody who counts for anything, politically, in Pennsylvania. On the second floor is the Mellon suite, and here State Chairman W. L. Mellon, Executive Chairman Eric Fisher Wood, former state chairman W. Harry Baker and the many subordinates are gathered for conferences which seem to never cease.

Grundy, Baker, Mellon, Leslie, Bluett, Salus, Krause, Wood—all of them with enormous power, can be seen, leaving one group of politicians only to encounter another. Everybody seems to have something they want done, and the lobby of the Penn-Harris seems to be the chess board upon which the moves are being made. Tuesday the action of the lobby will be ratified in the Capitol.

It's a colorful scene, one that is intensely interesting if one is interested in politics or sociology. Even the native Harrisburger, accustomed as he is to such things, is paying a little more attention to the present gathering, for it portends a rather violent shake-up over across the street, where stands the building that is the pride of every Pennsylvanian, the State Capitol.

Oil City Priest Given Transfer

(International News Service)

OIL CITY, Pa., Jan. 4. — The Rev. Father J. J. Cannon, assistant in St. Joseph's parish here, and superintendent of parish schools, has been transferred to St. Patrick's parish, Erie, Pa., where he will take up his duties as assistant to Rev. Father Peter Cauley, it was announced here today.

Rev. Cannon, a native of Brooklyn, came here shortly after he was ordained priest in 1922, and leaves to engage in boys' work in his new parish.

Hint Speaker And Cobb Can Prove Their Innocence

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 4. — A hint that Tris Speaker and Ty Cobb have found a way to clear their names of the stain caused when Hubert "Dutch" Leonard made his charges, recently to Commissioner K. M. Landis, was given here today when it was learned that the two former baseball leaders probably will not file suits for damages.

"I will confer with Judge Landis late this week and when we are through I believe that everything will have been ironed out satisfactorily to all parties concerned," William H. Boyd, attorney for Tris Speaker, told International News Service today.

While not explaining his method of procedure, Boyd indicated that the entire affair could be cleared up if Commissioner Landis would issue a "certain statement."

Now that Mr. Landis has an increase in pay, we trust he'll look just that much wiser next season.

ANOTHER COURT FIGHT LOOMS IN J. A. BELL CASE

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 4.—Another court fight loomed today in the case of John A. Bell, aged financier who the supreme court ruled must serve a six and a half year jail sentence and pay a $19,000 fine for conviction as an embezzler.

Bell, at liberty in $25,000 bond, will surrender and be committed to the Allegheny County Workhouse about January 15, it was learned, but he is without funds to pay the heavy fine.

District Attorney S. H. Gardner holds that Bell's bonding company is liable also for payment of the fine, which technically is a part of the sentence, and indicated that he will attempt to make the bonding firm pay the fine.

Other attorneys doubted the authority of such proceedings and were of the opinion that 90 days would be added to Bell's sentence for default of the fine. At any rate, Bell's close friends were all of the opinion that the once powerful politician and industrial king will not survive the full jail term.

A jury found him guilty of embezzling funds of the Carnegie Trust Company, now defunct, which he headed.

Pittsburgher Uses a Rare Herb Remedy to Keep the Youthful Fires Burning.

"I am nearing 60 years, but I feel as young as I did at 30. I take a cupful of Bulgarian Herb (Blood) Tea once or twice a week. It keeps me healthy and strong and makes me feel young again," said H. H. Von Schlick, manufacturer of Bulgarian Herb (Blood) Tea.

If you are constipated or have rheumatism, liver, kidney or stomach trouble, don't wait another day. You need vigor and energy to perform your work. Why not feel 10 to 30 years younger?

New Castle Family Injured When Auto Skids Into Trolley

ERIE, Pa., Jan. 4.—Four persons of one family were injured Sunday afternoon in an accident on the East Buffalo road, when the car in which they were riding collided with a Buffalo and Lake Erie interurban car.

One of those injured is in a serious condition in Hamot hospital. The others sustained cuts and bruises and minor injuries and were cared for at Hamot hospital.

The injured are: W. J. Adams; his brother, William Adams; his wife, Mrs. W. J. Adams, and their 10-year-old daughter, Genevieve, all of New Castle.

William Adams sustained jossible internal injuries and his condition is reported to be quite serious.

The Adams family had been touring during the holidays and were returning to New Castle. They were approaching the White Tree Inn, near Moorheadville, when the accident occurred. According to a report made by traction company officials, the Adams car skidded on the slippery road and collided with the big car.

It is believed that the driver attempted to avoid a collision when he saw the street car coming and that when he applied the brakes the car skidded, throwing it onto the tracks.

Spend Three Days And Two Nights Afloat On Ice

Ice Breaks Loose While Fishermen Are Going Out For Nets

(International News Service)

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Jan. 4.—Two men who with their horse spent three days and two nights afloat on a huge chunk of ice in Lake Superior told of their harrowing experiences here today after having been rescued by a lighthouse keeper.

During the long days and sleepless nights they had no protection from the cold wind except that afforded by a sleigh box and nothing to eat but raw frozen herring.

Aleck McLean and C. R. Draper, professional fishermen of Dollar Settlement near here, left last Tuesday with a horse and sleigh over the ice to bring in their nets, which were stationed near Round Island.

While busy with the nets they didn't notice that the ice had broken away from the main body and they were afloat on a chunk a half mile square until too late to jump the gap. The wind drove them rapidly into the expanse of Whitefish Bay.

After three days and two nights adrift they were blown ashore on Ile Parlesien, where they were given assistance by Lighthouse Keeper Douglas. During this time their horse had nothing to eat.

Police Surgeon To Be Provided

Council Considers Ordinance To Meet Emergency Situation In City

Councilman Louis Genkinger today introduced an ordinance providing for the legality of securing and paying a police surgeon in times of emergency.

The ordinance does not name any particular surgeon but it is understood that police, when required, will secure the services of Dr. E. F. Eakin, at present city-county physician, welfare department.

The ordinance provides a legal route to procure medical attention for persons who are found ill on streets and who may have to be sent to hospitals.

The bill also provides that the city can pay them the usual fees and states that if desired the mayor can impose the fee as part of a fine in cases where the persons are under arrest.

The measure also contains the provision that the city, if it pays the bill, has power to collect from the county of Lawrence which has control of the department of poor.

The ordinance was sponsored by Mayor Dunlap who claims that since the abolition of the local district of the poor the county regulations call for an investigation by a welfare director before the services of a physician can be secured.

The director, the police here claim, lives in an out-of-way place, being a resident of the county and they do not wish to delay when cases of emergency arise.

Smoking in Bed Has Sent Many A Man to an Unexpected Grave

While smoking in bed may be some people's conception of comfort, this custom has caused countless premature deaths. Smokers apparently overlook the fact that they are liable to doze while reading and smoking in bed. Cotton sheets catch fire easily and burn rapidly. Even women have met their deaths in this manner, points out S. J. Williams, director of the public safety division of the National Safety Council. One old lady recently was enjoying a pipe, a rocker and a nap simultaneously when she awoke to find her clothes ablaze.

Flowers Of Thought Strewn On Memory Of Late B. A. Winternitz

Beautiful tributes to the memory of the late Attorney Benjamin A. Winternitz were paid by members of the Lawrence County Bar Association at a memorial service held at the courthouse Monday afternoon, with Judge R. L. Hildebrand presiding.

A memorial eulogizing the many good qualities of the deceased, prepared by a committee composed of J. Norman Martin, James A. Chambers and Harry K. Gregory was first presented by Attorney Gregory, after which fitting remarks were made by members of the bar.

They related their personal experiences with the deceased, spoke of his early life, his education, his fidelity to clients, his fairness to the court and fellow members of the bar, his friendly disposition, his value as a member of society and his ability in the practice of his profession.

Among those who thus testified to his worth were Attorneys Harry K. Gregory, James A. Chambers, Wylie McCaslin, Charles H. Young, Robert K. Aiken, Charles G. Martin, Richard Dana, William J. Moffatt, William McElwee Jr., Edwin K. Logan, M. L. Rabinovitz, M. L. Ailey, Walter W. Braham, Wilbur J. Baer, C. A. Patterson, A. M. Shumaker and Judge Hildebrand.

At the close of the remarks Attorney H. K. Gregory made a motion that the memorial be spread upon the records of the court, and this was ordered by Judge Hildebrand.

From the memorial, which covered several typewritten pages, the following extracts are taken:

"Benjamin A. Winternitz knew the county seat of Lawrence county when it was little more than a village; he knew its people and grew up with its development; he saw the first pavement laid in its streets and knew the first protests against increased taxation for public improvements. He knew of the protests against employers of volunteer fire companies; he was familiar with the development of our public schools from the red brick school house the corner to the high school system of today. He was in close touch with the protest against the building of the first street car line in the city, and he knew the pulse throb on every matter of municipal improvement.

"He received his education in the common schools and later in sectarian schools in Philadelphia. He was admitted to the bar perhaps younger than any person has ever been admitted.

"He was a lover of books, and throughout his life fashioned his mind to industry, study and research. He chose the law for his profession because it was in the line of his desires.

"His spirit has been gathered into eternity in the harvest time of death, 1926. As lawyers, we will benefit by remembering him as an untiring worker, as a lawyer who made his client's cause his own, as one who prepared for battle before the onrush of his opponent, and as one who relied not upon the ability that nature had given him, but on that ability and on the knowledge acquired by incessant effort."

Long Gives Loan Situation Here

Says Banks Await Word From Washington On Veteran's Policy Loans

Many members of the American Legion have been inquiring about and trying to negotiate loans on the insurance policies that were issued them during the war. But it seems to be very difficult for them to secure such loans.

Harry M. Long, commander of the local organization wishes to say that the banks have explained to him their situation, as follows:

The banks may make such loans to the amount of somewhere like 8 percent. The method would be that the holder of such a policy would make out a note to the bank with the insurance policy as collateral. But suppose the one borrowing the money is not able to pay the note when it comes due or even to meet the interest; then the bank has nothing to do but forward the insurance policy to Washington who will reimburse the bank for the amount of the note and interest. Some of the banks have written to Washington to see if the government is willing to do this but have not yet heard from them.

Thus until they hear from the government as to whether such reimbursement would be made the banks cannot make such loans because such collateral would not be sufficient guarantee.

Battle Starts To Bar Smith

Tennessee Senator Fires Opening Shot To Bar Illinois Appointee

ASKS COLLEAGUES TO "SLAM DOOR"

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4—The long anticipated battle to bar Senator Designate Frank L. Smith, R., of Illinois, from the senate was formally launched this afternoon with Senator McKellar, D., of Tennessee, firing the first shot.

In a speech charging Smith with having violated the public service laws of Illinois, McKellar called on his colleagues to slam the door of the senate in Smith's face. He declared the exclusion of Smith would be a "notice to the people" that seats cannot be bought in the senate. If Smith is seated, he added, it would be a notice that any "man who has sufficient money can buy a seat in this body."

American Marines Will Remain On Nicaraguan Duty

Despite Clamor In Congress Forces Will Remain Says Administration

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—American marines are to remain in Nicaragua, despite the clamor in Congress for their withdrawal and press criticism of the administration's policy, it was announced today.

The cabinet discussed the Nicaraguan and Mexican situations this morning, and at its conclusion it was stated at both the White House and State Department that national interests demanded the continued maintenance of American armed forces in the republic.

The United States has certain treaty rights involving the proposed Nicaraguan canal and the naval base at Fonseca, which require some protection from the revolutionary activities of the Sacasa Liberals in Nicaragua, it was explained by the White House.

The most astonishing thing about evolution is the long way it has yet to go.

Many persons are able to beat opportunity knocking.

PETERS ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

By Florence Smith Vincent

TINKLE, TINKLE, LITTLE BELL!

A fat Horse-Fly came buzzing by and, just for fun, brushed Puss-Cat's nose with the tips of his wings.

"H-m-meow!" murmured Puss-Cat and in her sleep raised her paw to scratch the spot that tickled. And at the very second she stirred a new note blended with the mad, merry music of the fiddle — the tinkling of a silvery bell. Though it was not loud at all Puss-Cat woke right up.

"What was that?" growled she and glared at Peter. "Didn't you hear something, Boy? I thought I did, or was I dreaming?" Peter nodded.

"You heard something, all right! Tinkle, tinkle, little bell, how I wonder where you are?"

Puss-Cat jumped to her feet. Again rang out that silvery chime.

"Pst!" Puss-Cat made a half circle.

"Tinkle! Tinkle!" Puss Cat whirled about to again face Peter. And for the fourth time the bell rang and more loudly than any time before. Puss-Cat lost her temper.

"Is it tricks you're playing upon me, my Boy? I warm you not to go too far. I can take a joke as well as and cat know, but not when it is upon myself."

Peter was just as mystified as was Puss-Cat. But before he could say so to the angry lady he saw something that for just a second made him wonder if his eyes were deceiving him. Then he laughed.

"Clever Cat! Turning the tables and fooling me, aren't you, old lady? You're a good actor, making me believe you didn't know where that noise was coming from, blaming me for it and all the while laughing at me. Well, I've found you out! But how in the world did you manage to keep it quiet all this time?"

Puss-Cat looked at Peter in perfect amazement.

"What in catnip land are you talking about?" demanded she. "I don't know where that ting-a-ling is coming from! How should I?"

"Well, if you don't, you ought to, since the bell that is tinkling is hung about your neck!" Peter laughed good humoredly, still sure that the Cat was only teasing him.

Next: "The Bell About Her Neck."

NEW CASTLE TO PLAY ASPINWALL HERE TONIGHT

Coach McCombs Has Fast Team

Locals Hope To Rid Selves Of "Defeat Jinx" Following Them

GAME STARTS AT EIGHT O'CLOCK

BY "BUGS" WALTHER

Having dropped their last two games to Franklin and the Alumni, the New Castle High basketeers will try for a comeback tonight, when they clash with the fast Aspinwall high quintet, on the Senior high gym floor. The game will start at 8 o'clock.

Preceding the floor battle the Senior high band of some 50 pieces will give a concert. It was announced today that the concert would start at 7:15 o'clock and continue through until game time.

The New Castle high floor team has not had what one could call a successful pre-season playing schedule, two games have been victories and two have gone on the other side of the alley. Grove City high was downed on two occasions, but Franklin and the Alumni turned the trick on the Bridenbaugh coached coterie.

The locals held a long practice session on Monday afternoon and it was noticeable that there were many changes in the lineup. It is understood that the mentor is not entirely satisfied with several of the players and a general shake-up will occur in the very near future if more victories are not forthcoming.

Aspinwall high is coached by Arthur McCombs, former Ben Franklin high coach, and in his first year at the Pittsburgh suburban school, has set a high record. In football the Aspinwall team won the Tri-Borough championship. In the floor game the Aspinwall passers are said to be fast and to be sporting a fine combination. From all indications the locals are in for another stiff struggle tonight. Aspinwall has played several games to date and are undefeated, which would indicate that they have the "stuff."

Just what kind of a lineup would start for New Castle high tonight Coach Bridenbaugh would not say today.

Lewis Defeats Wayne "Big" Munn

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Jan. 4.—Ed "Strangler" Lewis still clung today to whatever claims he has to the disputed heavyweight wrestling title of the world, by virtue of his victory over Wayne "Big" Munn, former Nebraska football player, in straight falls at the Coliseum last night.

Lewis took the first fall in 57 minutes and 45 seconds with his famous headlock. He won the second and deciding fall in 4 minutes and 33 seconds by repeating the same hold.

Tin Mill Quintet Defeats Overlands, Take League Lead

Tin Mill Team, By 27 To 20 Victory, Takes Leadership In City League

East Side Merchants Defeat P. & L. E. Team By Score of 35-19

Taking a lead at the start of the game which they held throughout forty minutes of extraordinary fast playing, the Tin Mill quintet gained undisputed possession of first place in the City Industrial Floor League, on Monday night, at the Y. M. C. A., by handing the Rick-Overland tossers a 27 to 20 setback.

In the second game of the evening the East Side Merchants walloped the P. & L. E. Railroad team by a score of 35 to 19. The Merchants by their victory went into a tie for second place with the Overlands.

It was the first defeat of the year for the Fraser coached combination, and incidentally Arnold "Fiz" Fraser their coach was on the opposite side last night, Fraser is one of the Tin Mill stars and in the game Monday night against his own team caged three baskets and played a fine defensive game, it was a rather delicate situation for Fraser and he came through splendidly.

The Tin Mill team held a lead of 13 to 12 at half time. The Tin Mill boys outscored the Overlands fourteen to eight in the second half of the game. The final score was 27-20.

Melder, Fraser, and Volesko were the big guns for the Tin Mill, while Cuba, and Nocera played best for the Overlands. The Tin Mill team remains undefeated in league playing.

Merchants Win

The East Side Merchants continued their stride in the league by giving the P. & L. E. team a sound trouncing in the second game of the bill-of-fare last night. The final score was 35 to 19.

The Merchants led by Eagleson and McLure ran wild against the railroad boys, the former caged five from the field, and the latter came through with the same number.

The Merchants held a lead of 13 to 12 at the end of the first half. In the second half of the battle the Merchants scored at will and ran up twenty-two points to seven for their opponents.

The East Siders are a real threat in the league this year and they look good to fight hard for the championship.

The lineup and summary:

Westminster To Play Adrian In New Wilmington

College Teams To Clash In Westminster Gym Tonight—Test For Locals

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Jan. 4.—Westminster College's student body newly returned to the college campus after the Christmas holidays, and basketball fans of the district, will be treated to a taste of collegiate basketball Tuesday evening when the Blue and White quintet tackles the Adrian College passers from Michigan on the Westminster floor. The game will start at 8 o'clock.

Westminster's varsity will enter the contest with two practice tilts disposed of. In the first of these, the Scholastics of Greenville, were decisively defeated while the competition with the Buhl Club was keener with Westminster emerging the victor by an eight point margin. The contests are thought to have served their purpose, that of giving Coach John Lawther a workable judgment of the abilities of his men.

Lawther's squad has been in New Wilmington since Friday morning, although the vacation did not end until 4:30 p. m. Monday. He sent them through a long drill Monday afternoon, attempting to erase the faults betrayed in the Buhl Fiasco Saturday night. Considerable time was spent on brushing up on tip-off plays and polishing both the defensive and offensive tactics in general.

"Johnny" has not divulged his starting lineup. He surprised Westminsterites Saturday evening with his "chosen five." Crowell of Sharon, a freshman forward, who towers over six feet, started as a running mate with Brown. Gamble, another Sharon lad, was at center, with McQuiston and T. Lewis, at the guards. Whether or not the same five will be used against Adrian will not be known until game time.

The Michiganites have been touring through this section of the Keystone state for more than a week. Monday evening they met Allegheny and Wednesday night conclude their visit by playing Grove City.

The 1927 schedule arranged by the Cotton States League calls for a season of 126 games, opening April 1 and closing Labor Day.

The veteran "Gabby" Street, who managed the Augusta South Atlantic League club last season, will pilot the Columbia club of the same organization in 1927.

Hoppe's Hopes

By Feg Murray

Tomorrow and the two succeeding days will find Willie Hoppe very much in the limelight again. Of course that is not an unusual place to find Willie for it seems that he has been occupying the calcimine almost since the time of William the Conqueror. To be exact Willie Hoppe, "the boy wonder" is about to try to regain the 18:2 balk-line billiard honors which he lost in 1925 after holding them for a continuous stretch of 17 years except for one brief interruption. Hoppe meets Eric Hagenlacher of Germany the world's champion at the Pennsylvania hotel in New York city in a 1,500 point match on January 5, 6 and 7.

Let me refresh your mind a bit on the recent history of the 18:2 billiard crown which for so long adorned the brow of the redoutable Willie Hoppe lost his title in March 1925 to Jake Schafer the man who had taken away his title temporarily a few years before. In December of the same year Edouard Horemans of Belgium won the championship from Schaefer, only to lose it back to the same player in the following month. Then at Philadelphia in March of last year, Eric Hagenlacher won the crown that he now wears so jauntily by beating Schaefer 1,500 to 1,344.

Hoppe you know, began playing billiards when he was five years old His father taught him not to miss—by knocking him sprawling when he did miss. When Willie was 18 he won his first world's title by defeating the ancient Maurice Vigneaux of France at 18:1 balk-line billiards. To show how long that was I need only say that Bill Clothier was the United States tennis champion that year and Gertrude Ederle wasn't even born. Hoppe lot the18:1 title to Schaefer last April in New York. The 18:2 crown came into his possession in 1908.

And now Willie Hoppe wants to rule the green baize once more and when Willie wants a thing badly he usually gets it. When you consider that here are over three and a half million billiard players in the United States alone (and more than two billiard tables to every baseball fan!) the title of "champion of the world" means something in this game!

Go get 'em, Willie.

Feg Murray Says.

The advertising and magazine cover artists who continue to draw football players wearing noseguards probably think that six day bike racers still use old fashioned high wheeled bicycles.

Southeastern Colleges Planning New Mid-Atlantic Athletic Group

By HENRY LESESNE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 4.—Its sponsors claiming that the Southern Conference and the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association are growing too unwieldly, plans are under foot by a number of Southeastern colleges to organize a new association—the Middle Atlantic Athletic Association.

Invitations are now being circulated among a number of colleges in the South to join the new athletic association. Many colleges already have manifested interest in the Middle Atlantic idea, and others have openly favored the association.

Among those colleges which have been invited to join the association are: William and Mary University of Richmond, Hampden-Sydney, in Virginia; Wake Forest, Davidson, and Duke University, in North Carolina; The Citadel, Furman University and Presbyterian College, in South Carolina; and Mercer and Oglethorpe Universities, in Georgia.

The new association would be along the lines of the present Southern Conference and S. I. A. A., it was said, and would encourage elevation of standards, and "spread the gospel of fair play throughout all activities among the schools."

An urgent need for a new organization in the Mid-Atlantic States was given as the cause for the new project. The Southern Conference and S. I. A.A., it was said, have grown so as to be unwieldly and the extensiveness of the territory, and the bulky list of schools involved is such as to defeat the purpose of a compact organization.

Tentative plans, outlined in letters addressed to interested institutions, call for a limited personnel of from 12 to 15 members, and for the organization of a conference that will be able to challenge the strength of any team in the other two Southern conferences.

Although no mention was made in the proposed association's literature of any college in Maryland, it is reported that one or two schools in that State will be asked to join, as will N. C. State in North Carolina.

The latter school however is expected to reject any invitation to enter the proposed association. State College would be interested in joining an association which would segregate present North Carolina, Virginia and Maryland members of the Southern Conference from the far Southern group.

Tex Rickard Goes To St. Louis To Confer With New Champion

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—Disguished as a mammy singer, Mr. T. Rickard will steal quietly out of town on a bandwagon tonight, St. Louis bound with a jazz time junket unique in the annals of pigilistica and, to the beat of departing wheels, he'll murmur this jazz refrain:

"I'm a-comin'; sorry that I made you wait. I'm a-comin'; hope and pray I'm not too late."

But this last is only a lot of social tea; for Mr. T. Rickard will be on his merry way to interview Gene Tunney about the likelihood of a heavyweight championship match being held next summer and he knows full well that he is earlier than a milkman. The interview, a la Barnum and Bailey, probably will take place on Thursday in St. Louis where Mr. Tunney is engaged at the moment in uplifting the arts or something.

O, Tempera, O, Mores. O, Hokum. Back in the dead past, Barnum knew his hokum and thrived accordingly, but he never thought of taking a dozen to twenty newspapermen on a journey of a thousand miles to see a man who probably was less than a thousand yards away only a week ago. As a publicist, Barnum was the riot of the late Victorian era but today he still would have his registration card in the A. A. U.

Idea Is Costly.

The idea probably will cost Mr. Rickard in the neighborhood of $5,000, counting railroad fares, meals, hotel bills and the modern right to punch a bartender in the nose. It wouldn't have cost him a skinny dime last week, for Mr. Tunney then was uplifting in these parts and would have hastened into conference at the drop of a cigar ash.

But that wouldn't do in view of the fact that Tunney and Humbert J. Fugazy were conferring all over the place and, what with the competition involved, Mr. Rickard wouldn't have received the attention his words might merit.

Therefore, he ignored the champion, gave him a handicap of a thousand miles and then prepared to start in pursuit, first being considerate enough to invite various gentlemen of the press to pursue in concert. The boys, it seems, heard the bugle and, mounted on typewriters, are massing at the scene of the hunt.

In other words, our Mr. Rickard has made certain of the fact that gentlemen of the press always will be at his elbow throughout the trip. However, I might mention that it is not his custom to use his elbow on gentlemen of the press.

Gotham Net Ace Wins Beausite Play

CANNES, France, Jan. 4—Allen Behr of New York who caused a sensation at the opening of the Riviera tennis season by carrying Jacques Brugnon, French internationalist, to deuce sets came out victorious in the Beausite tournament.

Showing suberp net play he defeated Charles Aeschliman in the final at 6-3, 3-6, 6-4, 6-4.

King Loses Money; Sells Some Horses

NEWMARKET, England, Jan. 4.—King George was able to retrieve some of his losses on the flat racing season through the sale of several of his horses at the Bloodstock sales here. Knight of the Garter, of the ruler's stable, brought 3,000 guineas, or about $15,270.

Tex And Scribes Off For St. Louis

Promoter Hopes To Sign Gene Tunney To Contract

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—Tex Rickard today completed preparations for heading an expedition to St. Louis for the purpose of signing Gene Tunney for the defense of the heavyweight championship of the world in New York next September.

It will start late today and will be one of the most elaborate excursions of the sort in pugilistic history. The promoter will be accompanied by a large retinue of associates and newspaper men, indicating his confidence that the trip will accomplish its purpose, and, as he put it, "give the boys something to write home about."

Accused Former Diamond Stars To Face Risberg In Chicago Wednesday

"Swede" Risberg, Former Deposed White Sox Star, To Face 38 Notables

Commissioner Landis Refuses To Comment On Any Phase Of Scandal

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Jan. 4.—The vanguard of baseball players and managers, active and retired, whose names appear on Swede Risberg's "who's who in crooked baseball", were in Chicago today prepared to face the man who accuses them, in the office of Commissioner Landis here tomorrow morning. The meeting is scheduled for 10 o'clock.

Thirty-eight men, whose names have been by-words in baseball for years, have been summoned by Landis. More than half of them are already in the city or enroute here, according ot word from the commissioner's office. The men summoned include players, managers and one umpire.

One of the 38 will be Charles "Swede" Risberg, former member of the Chicago White Sox, who was banished from organized baseball for alleged dishonesty during the world series of 1919. The other 37 will be men named by Risberg in his sensational charges that the Chicago White Sox "bought" a four-game series from the Detroit Tigers during the latter part of the 1919 season.

To Answer Charges.

Commissioner Landis will call upon the accused players to answer Risberg's charges. If they say what most of them already have been quoted as saying in dispatches from over the country, it will be a rough session for the plaintiff.

The hearing will be open to the press and any of the public that can squeeze its way into the narrow chambers of Commissioner Landis.

Ban Johnson, president of the American league, who consistently refused to talk following the explosion of the Cobb-Speaker bomb, was at the end of his endurance today and just had to say something. His pent-up feeling overflowed with this opening remark:

"Risberg ought to be in Joliet penitentiary, with all the rest of the Black Sox."

Johnson declared the Chicago-Detroit charges made by Risberg were investigated by Landis shortly after the commissioner assumed office in 1920. He said Landis gave the players named a "clean bill of health".

Notables Summoned.

The players summoned to appear before Commissioner Landis tomorrow morning include the following:

Hughey Jennings, Eddie Collins, Ty Cobb, Buck Weaver, Ed Cicotte, Oscar Felsch, Joe Jackson, Chick Gandil, Ray Schalk, John Collins, A. E. "Reb" Russell, Meldon Wolfgang, Joe Benz, Harry "Nemo" Liebold, Byrd Lynn, Kid Gleason, Ed Walsh, Grover Loudermilk, George Burns, Harry Coveleskie, George Dauss, Howard Ehmke, Frank Fuller, George Harper, Harry Heilmann, Robert W. Jones, Oscar Stanage, Ernest Allen, Dave Danforth, Bob Veach, Benjamin F. Dyer, Leo Jourdan, Dick Kerr, Eddie Murphy, James Scott, R. H. Wilkinson and William H. James.

Although Ty Cobb was not mentioned in Risberg's now famous "who's who", the Georgia cracker has wired Commissioner Landis that he will be present at the hearing.

There was considerable speculation today as to what part Cobb will take in the proceedings. Many believe he will take this opportunity to lay before the commissioner the story he told an International News Service correspondent in Detroit yesterday concerning a new scandal. This story charged that the St. Louis Browns "threw" a game to Detroit in 1923.

Commissioner Landis still refused to comment today on any phase of the involved scandal situation.

No Winter sports were included in the Olympic games program previous to 1920.

Boxer Dies As Result Of Bout

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—Robert Schlieger, a featherweight boxer who fought under the name of Bob Kenwood, is dead of concussion of the brain sustained in a bout with Mike Spiegel at the New Star Sporting Club last night.

Spiegel and the judges were held on a technical charge of homicide, as were Joseph Bernstein, 48, the referee; Maurice Ladisky, 30, Kenwood's trainer, and Edward Munson, 44, the timekeeper.

Kenwood was knocked on his back in the third round by a blow to the jaw and collapsed. He had been taking severe punishment.

Former Pitcher Admits Receiving Moneyed Envelope

(International News Service)

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Jan. 4.—George Cunnigham former Detroit pitcher and now a member of the Birmingham club admits he received $50 for working in two of the four games which "Swede" Risberg claims were fixed for the Chicago White Sox to win.

Cunningham denying any knowledge of a frame-up said the money was given him in an envepole by Bill James another Detroit pitcher, who asked him to take it and ask no questions. James told him the money was the gift of a "Chicago friend" Cunningham said.

Estimate Over Million Witnessed Grid Games On California Fields

By ROY CUMMINGS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 4.—One million persons paid approximately $2,500,000 for the privilege of witnessing California, Southern California and Stanford 1926 football teams in action. These figures include the 60,000 persons witnessing the Stanford-Alabama New Year's game at Pasadena.

Figures released today by athletic officials at Berkeley and Los Angeles show that 697,585 persons saw the Golden Bears and Trojans in action.

Stanford statistics, including the New Year's game, showed that at least 300,000 fans watched the conference champions do their stuff. This makes a total for the three teams of 1,000,000 or better.

Stanford and California drew the largest single crowd of the season to the "big game" with an attendance mark of 79,000. The Notre Dame- U. S. C. game was second with 78,500 paid admissions.

Attendance at Palo Alto did not equal that at Berkeley or Los Angeles, but the crowds which saw Stanford beat the Trojans and the Golden Bears boost their average. With 60,000 seats sold for New Year's game, Stanford ranked with its two rivals. The Cards' best game was the Washington university contest, which drew 50,000.

Financial calculations are not finished, but it is estimated that the golden harvest from California football will run close to $2,500,000. The average price for seats throughout the year was $2.50.

The Trojans had an average attendance of 37,560, while California, despite a disastrous season, pulled an average attendance of 35,770 persons. Only two games at Berkeley, the Nevada game and the contest with the University of Oregon, drew less than 20,000 fans, while four games at U. S. C. fell below a 20,000 mark.

Money drawn from these contests will support all minor sports at the three great California universities, as well as pay for stadia.

McLaughry Given Great Welcome

Former Westminster Coach, Now At Brown University, Visits In Mercer

MERCER, Pa., Jan. 4.—The attitude of the student body at Brown University toward the results of the football team of the school was favorably commented on today by DeOrmand (Tuss) McLaughry, coach of the university squad who is visiting here at the home of his father Judge J. A. McLaughry.

"The undergraduate body take their victories philosophically" says McLaughry. "They are the type that like all other college men like to see their team win but they also possess that metal balance that finds them behind the team even in the hour of defeat.'

McLaughry's return to Western Pennsylvania has been one of a conquering hero. He is being welcomed by hundreds of fans of the game who knew him during his scholastic career as a player of the game at Sharon high in 1907-08, 09, 10 and later at Westminster college in 1913, 14, 15 the intervening years of 1911-12 being spent at Michigan Agricultural college. His career as a coach at Westminster college in 1916-1918 and again in 1921 has given him a wide acquaintanceship. He will be the guest of honor at a football banquet in Sharon on January 4 when the high school team are recognized for their season's work.

"I had a tought outlook for the break I got on the season at Brown' says McLaughry in discussing his season results. "Of the 35 men on the squad but five were veterans of he 1925 team. I had to take a halfback an make a center of him and whip into shape an entire new backfield."

When asked as to his training regulations that made his team the wonder of the ast McLaughry dismissed the conditions given them in the statement "You have to know your men and how to handle them. Every man was an individual case with me and was given that individual attention. We had them in shape by mid-season and the last four or five weeks scrimage about that number of times. So fast did they come that some of the men became overweight. I impressed on them the necessity of geting into condition at once when our camp opened. No man can play football without being in shape, it is impossible.'

Boy's League To Start Saturday

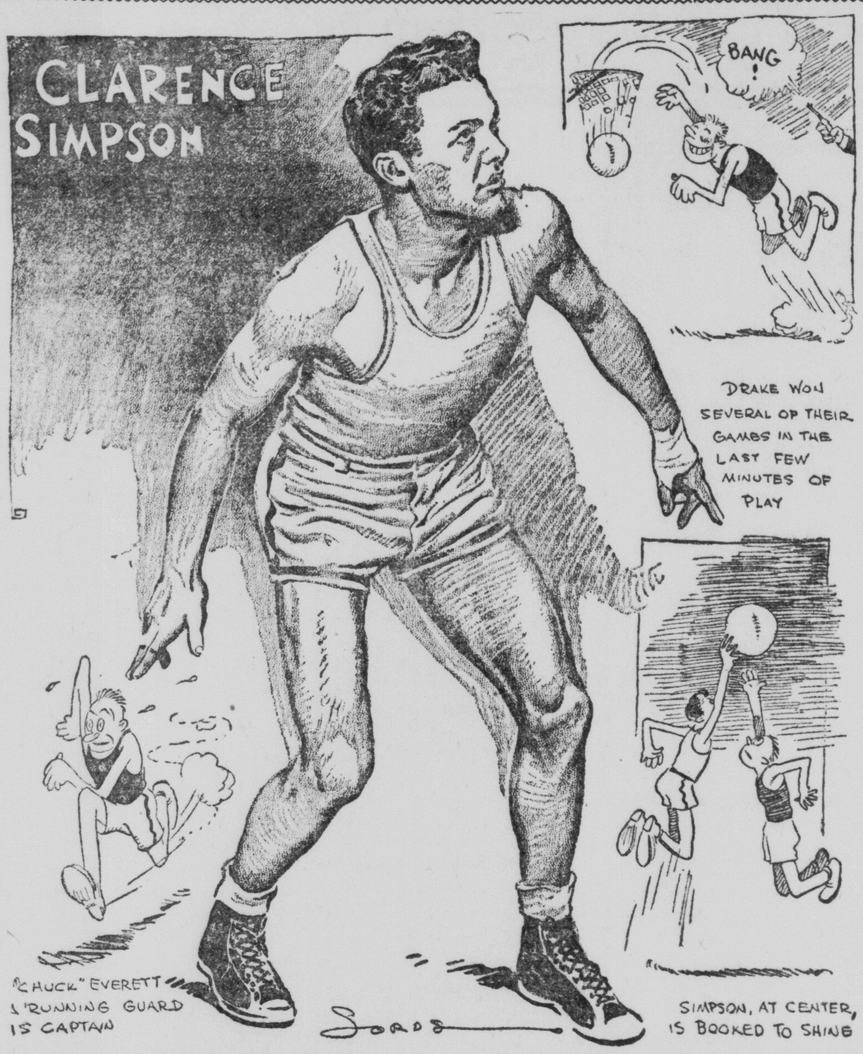
According to Walter Kirker, physical director of the Y. M. C. A., everything is in readiness for the start of the boys' league basketball games Saturday afternoon, when three games will be played. One game will also be played on next Tuesday from 5:15 to 6:15. Although Kirker has not yet completed the schedule for these games he has the names of the team which have secured franchises to play. They are: Hi-Y, Musketeers, Baptists, Regals, Handy Service Stores, Croton Troop, Athletics and St. Pauls. The schedule for these teams will be out at an early date, according to Kirker.

The completion of this schedule and the schedule for the church league which will have two games on Fridays and one Saturdays from 7 to 8 will fill the hours for use of the Y. M. C. A. gym floor from 4 p. m. Monday to 11 p. m. Saturday evening. This means that every hour is taken up on this floor and no other team will be able to secure time for games during this year's season.

Too many "leaders" are constitutionally incapable of thinking beneath the level of a clean shirt every day.

SORDS POINTS

"Drakes" Hope To Make Duck Soup Of Cage Rivals



By NORMAN E. BROWN.

Drake University one of our most ambitious institutions has its covetous eyes on basketball honors these days.

Around the Missouri valley conference and contiguous territories they take their basketball seriously Last year Drake put up a stiff fight for conference honors and this year with a stronger team hopes to turn back such opponents as Kansas, (champs last season), Oklahoma the Oregon Aggies and other teams.

The "Bulidogs' as the Drake teaam is known round about won seven of its 16 games and the fact that several of these games were won in the last few minutes of play indicates the fighting teudencies of the bulldog outfit.

Last year "Chuck" Everett was the outstanding star of the team. He started the season at forward and later shifted to guard. Playing the running type at the latter position he was easily the star of the outfit.

He is captain this year—his last with the institution. Barney Meyers a forward playing his first season as a varsity man was another big star last winter. These men are leading stars of this year's eleven. Clarence Simpson at center is booked to shine also.

The team is coached by Bill Boelter former star athlete at the Des Moines institution.

Kansas victors in the 1925-26 race won 16 out of its 18 games Oklahoma and Oregon Aggies tied for second place with nine victories and 12 conference games.

Haskell Indian Football Team Play In 20 States In 5 Years

By THOMAS R. CURRAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO., Jan. 4. — Reams have been written of the wanderings, hither and yon, of the Notre Dame nomads, but the lowly aborigine, equipped with a football suit, is by no means a "stay-at-home."

The Haskell Indians of Lawrence, Kansas, who recently concluded a 12-game season with a contest in San Francisco against the Hawaiian All-Stars, have played in twenty states during the past five years. In that period they have appeared seven times in contests on the Atlantic seaboard and thrice upon the Pacific coast.

Last year they met the Los Angeles Athletic Club at Los Angeles and Gonzaga university up in Washington state.

Outstanding contests on their schedule this season were the following:

Boston College 21-21 tie.

Haskell 40; Michigan State 7, at East Lansing.

Haskell 27; Tulsa university 7.

Haskell 36; Bucknell (Pennsylvania) 0.

Including the San Francisco game on December 18 the redmen from Kansas amassed a total of 558 points the past season while their opponents were accuring 63.

The Haskell tribe played the Hawaiian ukelele with a tomahawk and the final score in their game here with Honolulu All-Stars was 40 to 7.

McLain, the Indians' fullback, is leading point scorer of the nation this year with a total of 247.

The outlook for next year is drear. Coaches Dick and Pat Hanley, who built Haskell teams to the point where they ranked with Pop Warner's elevens at old Carlisle, are leaving, and at least twelve good redmen will graduate from school and retire as oil millionaires.

Methodists Win From Adrian

Allegheny Draws Away From Visiting Team In Last Half

MEADVILLE, Pa., Jan. 4.—Allegheny college's basketball five romped away with an easy victory in the opening game of the season here yesterday, defeating Adrian, 40 to 16. The first half ended, 18 to 12, with the visitors furnishing plenty of opposition. However, in the second half everything was Allegheny, and this half ended, 22 to 4. The work of Baker's proteges in the second half surpassed the expectations of the fans, and when substitutes were pressed into service in rapid-fire order towards the close of the contest the work of the Meadville team became faster and more spirited and the visitors lost track of the home players time after time. The lineup:

Allegheny—40.		Adrian—16
Thompson	F	McCormick
McClurg	F	Sprankle
Moon	C	Bassett
Rhodes	G	Sutherland
Cibula	G	Geisler

Score by halves:

Allegheny	18	22—40
Adrian	12	4—16

Substitutions—Allegheny: Slaven for Moon, Bair for Thompson, Blackburn for Rhodes, Westcott for Cibula, Myers for McClurg, Hammett for Blackburn, Eighmy for Slaven. Adrian: Breamer for Geisler, Lunn for Sprankle, Schonover for Lunn, Anderson for Schonover. Field goals—McClurg 6, Thompson 4, Rhodes 4, Cibula 2, Slaven, Blackburn, Bassett 3, McCormick, Sprankle, Lunn, Geisler. Foul goals—Allegheny, 4 out of 12; Adrian 2 out of 9.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

Bill Carrigan, on his return to the ranks of the big league managers, proceeds to step into the lead as a world's series pilot. For when William the Ready left baseball he carried with him the record of having won the only two series into which he led the Red Sox. And he is the only manager who has ever won that many without dropping one or more.

Jimmy Collins, Jake Stahl, and Ed Barrow each won one series for the Boston team—the only series in which each participated—and therefore have clean slates. Looking over the records of the pilots of other teams, Fielder Jones, Pants Rowland, George Stallings, Tris Speaker, Bill McKechnie and Rogers Hornsby have each been triumphant in the only series in which they figured. These are the only men never to suffer a series defeat. John McGraw, busiest pennant winner in the game's history, has broken into nine, but has been socked in six of them. Connie Mack, in the five series he has been a party to, has come out victor three times.

Frank Chance, Fred Clarke, Pat Moran, Stanley Harris, Miller Huggins, Fred Mitchell, Kid Gleason, Wilbert Robinson and Hughie Jennings are the other managers to break into the fall classic one or more times. Jennings, incidentally, suffered the hardship of being defeated in all three world's series in which his team of Tigers played.

Some of the fans who watched Joe Boley in action during the years the new Athletic shortstop was winning fame with Baltimore, say that the big league fans will be a bit disappointed when they first see him in action.

This because of the fact that Boley carries nothing of the spectacular in his play. He covers his territory in an easy, graceful sort of fashion that belies his ability and agility. He is naturally graceful and the graceful infielder never gets the credit due him, because of his grace, which makes his work appear easy.

Nevertheless this Boley must be a mighty sweet infielder. Connie Mack parted with $50,000 and three ball players to get him. And Connie never loses his head over a ball player.

Clonaslee Wins Feature Event

Warm Sun Beats Down As New Orleans Sees Races

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 4.—Notwithstanding an ordinary program a splendid crowd was out Tuesday at the fair grounds for the second day's racing of the Louisiana Jockey club's winter meeting.

A summer-like sun shone down from a cloudless sky and all other conditions were ideal.

The program's feature was the George W. Knott purse at a mile and a sixteenth, which was won by the Idle Hour Farm's mare, Clonaslee, Johnson up. Johnson brought Clonaslee from behind in the last quarter and, passing out Edward Gray, drew out in the last sixteenth to win by nearly two lengths. Edward Gray, favorite, held to second place and War Man was third.

There was another 2-year-old race on the card and this time the favorite was beaten. Hal Price Headley's Mimi won, paying $6.80 for $2, and Best Spade, the choice, was second.

Long Point, a 1-to2 chance, won the second race and Muldoon, paying $19.60 for $2, beat the odds-on-favorite, Superfrank, in the third.

Long Point was one of several winning favorites, W. C. Trover's Crosswise capturing the fifth race and paying $5.85 for $2.

The sixth race was won by Clique, Gates of Honor second, Duckweed third.

P. & O. Company Athletic Program

A full schedule of bowling and basketball events confronts the teams of the Penn-Ohio system league this week. All three of the basketball matches are scheduled for Wednesday January 5. The Municipal Railway will meet the Youngstown Office five in Youngstown; the P.-O Coach tossers will go to Sharon to meet the Sharon team and New Castle will be the visitors at Warren for a game with the Trumbull Division five.

The bowling starts tomorrow night with the P.-O. Coach and Youngstown Office rollers opposing each other. The same night the New Castle aggregation will be playing against Sharon in Sharon and on Friday night Lowellville will be the opponent of the Youngstown Municipal Railway in Youngstown.

The skating feat of jumping over 12 barrels on the ice has been accomplished by both Morris Wood, amateur, and Edmund Lamy, professional.

Do Rent Receipts Keep You From Owning A Home Of Your Own

Why pay rent when you buy a home on easy terms from the houses advertised for sale in our Real Estate Column. There you will find houses of all sizes and descriptions, in every part of the city, and you will find dealers who will make the terms to suit your individual financial condition.
If you are working for a moderate salary, tell your problems to the Realtor and he will help you to convert the rent you are paying into a home of your own. A few years of paying rent will buy a house. It has been estimated that a person who rents 30 years pays for at least six houses. Pay for your own house and then buy another that some one will pay you for in rent.
The Realtor will tell you how.

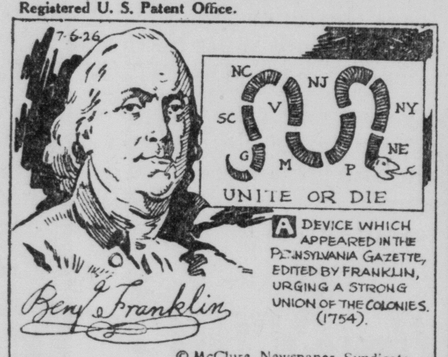
The Story of The Declaration of Independence—Part Two. by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD



A DEVICE WHICH APPEARED IN THE PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE, EDITED BY FRANKLIN, URGING A STRONG UNION OF THE COLONIES. (1754).

© McClure Newspaper Syndicate

IN 1775, BENJAMIN FRANKLIN RETURNED FROM LONDON, WHERE HE HAD SPENT MUCH TIME IN THE INTEREST OF THE AMERICAN COLONIES. HIS RETURN WAS A CONFESSION THAT NOTHING MORE WAS TO BE ACCOMPLISHED BY DIPLOMACY.

IN THE FALL OF 1775, STARTLING NEWS REACHED THE COLONIES. THE ENGLISH KING HAD HIRED 20,000 GERMAN SOLDIERS FROM THE PRINCES OF HESSE, ANHALT AND BRUNSWICK AND WAS SENDING THEM TO AMERICA TO REDUCE HIS REBELLIOUS SUBJECTS TO SUBMISSION.

TO THE COLONISTS THE IDEA OF THE BRITISH CROWN EMPLOYING FOREIGN MERCENARIES TO MAKE WAR ON ENGLISH PEOPLE LIVING OVER THE SEA WAS THE LAST STRAW AND MULTITUDES OF AMERICANS WHO HAD BEEN RELUCTANT TO BREAK WITH ENGLAND WERE NOW CONVINCED OF THE NECESSITY OF INDEPENDENCE.

Ohio State Quint Defeats Pitt By Score Of 48-23

(International News Service)

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 4.—Ohio State basketeers today were preparing to open the Big Ten conference scheduled next Saturday at Purdue with a perfect pre-season record of victories over three eastern university quintets. The latest win came last night when the Buckeyes "took" Pittsburgh university's five by a 48 to 23 count. Wrobleski, Pittsburgh forward, starred for the visitors with a total of 10 points, while Hertrone, Ohio State center, ran up 13.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 4. — Industrial stocks moved sharply downward in early trading today, as the result of the prompt renewal of professional selling and liquidation, influenced to some extent by the $60,000,000 increase in brokers' loans reported at the close of yesterday's session.

Atchison's 4½ point drop was the feature of the railroad list, the stock selling at 164, against Monday's close at 168¼ and Monday's high at 171. Directors of the road meet for dividend action today. The balance of the railroad stock list was unusually inactive.

Professionals renewed their aggressive selling of the high-priced industrial leaders, with consequent losses of 1 to 3 points in Baldwin, Dupont, Cast Iron Pipe and General Asphalt. Stocks were poured into the market more quickly than they could be absorbed, except at a shrinkage of market values.

The motor stocks, sugars and a few of the oils constituted the strongest section of the market, and whatever rallies were noted in this period originated in these stocks. Hudson Motors was a strong feature, advancing in good buying to 56½.

Call money was unchanged at 5 per cent, with outside borrowing reported at 4 pxw per cent. Commodity markets were steady.

Asks Probe Of Recent Election In Pittsburgh

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 4.—Following more than a month of investigation in various parts of Allegheny county, District Attorney Samuel H. Gardner filed in quarter sessions court here this afternoon a petition for an investigation by the grand jury into the alleged frauds at the recent general election.

Judge John A. Evans was asked to call a special session of the November grand jury to convene next Monday.

Gardner in his petition pointed out he believed frauds had been perpetrated, that false counts and returns had been made, persons who did not vote were listed on the books as having cast their ballots, and others, deceased or aliens were listed as having voted.

No specific districts were mentioned in the petition, Gardner said, in order that the grand jury's investigation might be extended to any part of the county.

LEGISLATURE IS ORGANIZED FOR SHORT SESSION

bers. Following this the members took their oaths of office, the oaths being administered by Judge F. B. Wickersham of the Dauphin county courts.

Bluett Elected

The name of Thomas E. Bluett of Philadelphia, the choice of the Republican caucus for speaker last night, was then presented, as also was that of Wilson G. Sarig of Berks, the Democratic selection.

Bluett's overwhelming election followed.

Speaker Bluett was escorted to the desk to make his address.

At its conclusion the Senate was notified that the House was ready to proceed with business.

Senate Organizes

Reorganization of the Senate was similar to that in the House. The Senate was called to order by Lieut. Gov. David J. Avis and prayer was offered by the Rev. E. S. Ninde of West Chester. Secretary of the Commonwealth Conarroe presented election returns of the senators and then oaths were administered.

The Senate proceeded with the election of Senator Samuel W. Salus, Republican, of Philadelphia, as president, pro tem, over Senator Herman E. Baumer, Democrat, of Cambria.

Next in order followed the election of W. Harry Baker, Harrisburg, as secretary of the Senate, and John E. McKidry of Pittsburgh as chief clerk to succeed William P. Gallagher of Wilkesbarre.

Herman P. Miller, Harrisburg, was elected Senate librarian. After these elections the Senate sent notice to the House of its readiness to proceed with business.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 4.—Victorious in their caucus selection last night of John E. McKirdy of Allegheny for chief clerk of the senate, the forces of W. L. Mellon, state Republican chairman, awaited the opening of the new legislature at noon today.

With the adjournment of the Republican and Democratic caucuses machinery was set in motion for the brief organization session today.

McKirdy was the choice of the caucus for the clerkship by a vote of 36 to 6 over William P. Gallagher, who had held the office since 1918 and who had the support of Arthur H. James, lieutenant governor-elect. That was the only contest in the caucus nominations.

Business Session Urged.

Republican members of both the house and the senate urged a short business-like session and to that end a joint resolution of the house and senate caucuses was adopted calling upon the chairman of the respective groups to present resolutions in turn to each house fixing the date for adjournment sine die, Thursday, April 14, the short session was advocated by Chairman Mellon.

In accordance with the choice of the caucus the senate will organize at noon today by electing Samuel W. Salus of Philadelphia president pro tem. In opposition to Salus, the Democrats presneted the name of Herman A. Baumer of Johnstown. He will become the minority head of the upper body.

The name of Gallagher has been withdrawn and will not be presented on the floor today and McKirdy will be inducted into the office of chief clerk. Complete routing of the Gallagher forces during the caucus indicated that early control of the senate at least is in the hands of Mellon and Governor-elect John S. Fisher.

Routine Affair.

House reorganization will be a routine affair today with the re-election of Thomas E. Bluett of Philadelphia as speaker. Bluett became speaker of the house in 1925 when he ran against hte Pinchot candidate, C. Jay Goodnough of Cameron county. His selection by the Republican caucus last night was without opposition, but on the floor of the house today the Democrats will present Wilson G. Sarig of Berks county.

Speaker Bluett was supported by all factions of the party. He was placed in nomination by Joseph C. Marcus of Allegheny, who several weeks ago was considered as a candidate for the position. Seconding speeches were made by James J. Heffernan of Philadelphia, Miss Helen Grimes of Allegheny and D. Glenn Moore of Washington, representing the rural group of the legislature.

The house caucus re-named E. F. White of Chester county as clerk and M. K. Burgner of Franklin county as resident clerk and their election and seating today will be a mere formality.

C. J. McBride of Allegheny was named as chairman of the important slate committee in the house. The membership will be made up of one member from each congressional district. The patronage of the house will be in the hands of this committee and demands made to it during the coming two weeks will be exceptionally heavy, according to reports.

World Routes In Air Tripled In Six Years

Commercial Aviation In Great Strides Shown by British Report

In 1926 Regular Planes Fly 14,480,000 Miles On Business Errands

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Jan. 4.—In six years the length of the world's commercial air lines has been tripled.

This is one of the most telling facts in a report prepared by the British air ministry and made public here, and which makes the following comparisons in the length of commercial air lines in 1920 and 1925:

	Miles 1920	1925
European air lines	6000	18120
America	2840	8025
Africa	887	3641
Australia	none	3267
Asia	none	1323

Even more significant is the comparisons between mileage flown by airplanes in regular commercial service. In 1919 the total mileage flown was 1,170,000, while in 1926 it was 14,480,000, or more than ten times as much.

Progress Indicated.

Illustrating the progress and development of the express passengers airplane, the report shows that seven years ago a machine on the London-Paris air route developed 700 horse-power and carried six passengers, while today one of the latest types is driven by engines developing 2,000 horse-power and carries 20 passengers.

Figures supplied by the ministry show that reduction in operating costs has also been achieved. It is shown that whereas a passenger airplane four years ago cost as much as $1 a ton-mile to fly, a modern three-engined 'plane runs at a cost under 50 cents a ton-mile.

The ministry emphasizes that perhaps the greatest of all triumphs of the commercial airplane service is, from a mail-carrying point of view, the 2,000 mile service run across the United States, in all weathers, between New York and San Francisco.

Big Strides Shown.

The report shows that big strides in aviation have been made by Germany. Forbidden by the allied governments to have a military air service, she has concentrated upon commercial developments, and has increased the number of her civil airplanes from 125 in 1923 to more than 300 in 1925, while her widespread aerial propaganda has enabled her to sell airplanes and establish air lines all over the world.

Soviet Russia, according to the report, is developing big schemes eastward, which will take her machines ultimately as far as Peking and Tokio.

RUM RUNNER, TOLD TO HALT, SENDS CAR AT COP, LEAPS, FLEES

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Jan. 4.—While looking for cars operating with 1926 license plates, the state highway patrol on the National road yesterday encountered an automobile whose driver refused to stop and the machine was wrecked. The driver escaped after leaping from the car directed toward Sergeant A. J. Oldham, who narrowly escaped injury. In the car were found 39 gallons of moonshine liquor. It is believed to be owned by a rum-runner from Barberton.

Boy Scouts Will Receive Awards

Conspicuous Service In Forest Protection To Be Rewarded By State

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 4.—To Boy Scouts in Pennsylvania who rendered conspicuous service in forest protection during the past year one hundred medals will be awarded, the State Department of Forests and Waters announces.

Scouts who accepted pay for forest protection are not eligible for the medals it was explained. No awards will be made unless the written recommendations specify that pay was not accepted for any service rendered.

The state has been divided into ten districts. In each district ten medals may be presented. A medal may be awarded to an individual scout, to a patrol, to a troop or to boy scout officials.

Key men or judges have been appointed for all the districts and they will receive applications and make recommendations for the awards of medals.

All applications for awards for 1926 must be in the hands of those designated to make awards for the district before February 12.

According to the department's plans meritorious service may be shown in one or more of the following:

Preventing forest fires.

Detecting and reporting forest fires.

Educating the public to the danger of forest fires.

In determining qualifications for the award the following activities are among those the department will consider:

Removing conditions which constitute a forest fire hazard.

Reporting the existence of forest fires, and enlisting persons more than 16 years old to extinguish them.

Securing the co-operation and support of clubs, organizations, schools, etc., in preventing and suppressing forest fires.

Posting roads, streams and woods with literature calling for greater tree care with matches, camp fires, cigars and cigarets.

Enlisting the co-operation and support of local newspapers in a campaign of education on the forest fire evil and its prevention.

There probably never will be a time when the older generation isn't worrying about what is to become of the younger.

1927 Business Outlook Distinctly Favorable

By LEWIS E. PIERSON
Chairman of the Board of Directors American Exchange Irving Trust Company
(Written for International News Service.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—The momentum acquired by the marked prosperity of 1925-1926 should carry well into the coming year and the newly established scientific trend in business thought should represent important new strength in the always to be expected problems on ahead.

This trend in shown particularly in standardization, in simplified practice, in research, in a wider dissemination of economic information and in improvement in processes of manufacture and distribution. Our prosperity seems substantial. The fact that during the year satisfactory profits have gone hand in hand with declining commodity prices suggests an extremely high level of efficiency not only in production and distribution but also in planning and research.

The outlook for 1927 is distinctly favorable.

MERCER NEWS

For the month of December new records of communicable diseases were reached in Mercer county of those reported at the County Health Bureau here. The new cases for the month total 380 with measles in epidemic form reported at 263 cases, chicken pox 42, whooping cough 39, scarlet fever 29, diphtheria 4 and the remainder scattered among mumps, pneumonia and erysipelas with one case each. For the week just closing 94 new cases were reported with 80 of this number measles.

Measles in epidemic form has been prevalent in the county now for a five month period. It was expected with the arrival of cold weather that the number of cases would be diminished but the reverse of the situation is found from a comparison of the health charts.

Business for 1926 closed and a start made on the 1927 calendar at the county offices Monday. The county auditors began their task of the reviewing the expenditures of the county for the year that is just closed.
